MOTOR CYCLE HITS BROOM AND KILLS STREET SWEEPER

Brush Handle Becomes Caught Between Legs of City Employe, 74 Years Old, Throwing Him to the Pavement and Fracturing Skull; He Dies in Hospital.

POLICE SERGEANT'S SON HELD FOR DEATH

Walter Lehman Says Three Boys Were Riding on Machine With Him and That Auto Blocked His Sight; Describes Accident.

Wenzel Hubel, 74 years old, a street cleaner on Grand avenue near Fairground Park, was mortally injured in a peculiar accident Monday afternoon, when a motor cycle ridden by Walter Lehman, 20 years old, of 2624 Palm street, struck his brush in such a manner that it threw the aged man off his feet. His head struck the paving and his skull was fractured. Three boys were clinging on behind the motor cycle at the time, Lehman having picked them up at O'Fallon Park when they asked for a ride.

Hubel was working on the west side of Grand avenue about 100 feet south of Kossuth avenue, which is opposite Fairground. He had swept up a little pile of dust and dirt and was pushing it with his long-handled broom toward the gutter, according to witnesses, when Lehman's motor cycle, trying to pass between him and the curb, struck the brush. The witnesses said that it seemed to them that the handle of the brush caught between the man's legs and threw him into the air. When he fell his head struck the asphalt pavement.

Dies in City Hospital.

He was unconscious when picked up and taken to the city hospital. He died three hours later without recovering consciousness.

Lehman, who is a son of Police Sergeant Lehman of the Angelica Street District, was taken to the Angelica Station, where he gave bond on a charge of careless driving. After Hubel's death Lehman was rearrested, and is being held a prisoner.

Lehman, who is a clerk in the Burlington Railroad offices on night shift, gave reporters at the Angelica Street Station a detailed account of the accident. He told about permitting the three small boys to ride on his machine, but said that this had nothing to do with the accident, as the machine was perfectly balanced, and they did not detract his attention from the street ahead of him. He said he was running south on the west side of Grand avenue with the muffler of the motor cycle open, and at a speed of about seven miles an hour.

Auto Shuts Off View.

As he approached Kossuth avenue, he said, he saw an automobile approaching from the south. It turned west into Kossuth avenue, cutting the corner sharply and passing to the left of a street car which was standing on Kossuth just off Grand.

Lehman said the automobile in cutting the corner cut off his view of the street and he did not see the street cleaner until, swerving slightly to the south to avoid striking the automobile, he ran directly into the cleaner's broom, which, he said, the aged man pushed out ahead of him just as the automobile passed.

Lehman said that when he struck the broom the cleaner whirled around twice and fell to the street. He said the machine was not overturned, and that he stopped it in less than 15 feet.

Survived by Wife, 72.

Hubel's body was taken to his home, 2911 Destrehan street. He is survived by his wife, who is 72 years old, and two sons, Christ, 42 years old, of 4244 Lee avenue, and George, 30, who lives with his mother and father.

Hubel for 30 years was employed by the Niedringhaus Rolling Mills as a machine hand. Five years ago he obtained a place as fireman at police headquarters, but the work was too hard for him and he was transferred to the Dayton Street Station. He was there only a short time when he was sent to Forest Park, as a park cleaner. Three years ago he became a street cleaner.

MONUMENT TO POLO PONY

Animal Buried Near Where It Dropped Dead.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A novel monument has been placed over the grave of Goldleaf, the polo pony belonging to H. P. Whitney, that dropped dead during a game at Meadowbrook on Memorial day. Two small goal posts painted red and white support a black tablet with the inscription in gold letters: "Goldleaf. Famous international pony." Goldleaf has been buried near the famous score board of polo field, No. 2 at Meadowbrook on a slope that holds the graves of many hunters and steeplechasers, noted in Long Island sporting annals.

East End of Merchants' Bridge Sold for Taxes

Percy P. Lusk, Edwardsville Realty Man, Buys Illinois Half of $2,225,000 Structure for $11,082.03 at Forced Sale.

The east half of the $2,250,000 Merchants' Bridge, over the Mississippi, was sold for taxes Tuesday noon at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville. Percy P. Lusk, an Edwardsville real estate and insurance man, was the buyer, and the price was $11,082.03, the amount of the tax bill. Passenger trains came and went over the bridge as usual.

Under Illinois law, Lusk will have to give the former owner, the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Co., two years in which to redeem the property by paying the $11,082.03 and an additional 25 per cent of that amount as a penalty. If the company fails to do this in two years, Lusk can move the east end of the bridge away, and perhaps, if St Louis still lacks an east approach for the free bridge by that time, he might move it opposite Chouteau avenue and sell it to the city.

The bridge company, which is a subsidiary of the Terminal Association, has complained that its 1913 taxes in Madison County were too high, and has refused to pay them. It settled its tax bill in 1912 after a prolonged controversy. Lusk's interest in the matter is said to be a speculative one, he believing he can get a 25 per cent return on his investment by waiting two years. What the company intends to do has not appeared.

OVERSEAS HENS SET IN SUPREME COURT BUILDING

Judge Graves at Jefferson City Watchfully Waiting for Expected Hatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Judge W. W. Graves of the Missouri Supreme Court has a small family of imported chickens elaborately established in a room in the basement of the new Supreme Court Building. Each day at 5 p. m. he draws down the top of his desk over a pile of legal problems and takes the elevator to the basement, where he gently lifts two faithful Buff Orpington hens from their trusteeship of 28 Indian game eggs, feeds and waters them, gives them 20 minutes' exercise and replaces them on the eggs.

Judge Graves is trying to solve the problem of importing chicken eggs from Europe for successful breeding purposes in America. Since Jan 1 he has imported 90 Red Sussex eggs and 150 eggs of Indian Games from England. He successfully overseered the hatching of 15 Sussex chicks and 16 Indian Games.

In importing two Buff Orpington brood hens and 28 eggs, the period of shipping was utilized for incubation with a competent attendant in charge. When the hens and eggs arrived in Jefferson City, Judge Graves had them established in the Supreme Court Building and is as tender in his new guardianship as he is studious as a jurist.

According to Judge Graves, the Buff Orpingtons will complete their task next Wednesday, unless all the rules of poultry lore fail.

CASE OF DYNAMITERS BEFORE THE CABINET

McReynolds' Recommendations on Appeal for Clemency Said to be Unfavorable.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Attorney-General McReynolds today took to the Cabinet meeting his recommendation on the appeal for executive clemency of Frank M. Ryan, former president of the Structural Iron Workers' Union, and 20 other men convicted in the dynamiting cases several years ago.

While no official announcement of the decision of the Attorney-General was made, it was understood in circles close to the President that his recommendations were unfavorable to the appeal.

It was said that McReynolds took the ground that the men had been given a thorough trial, and that there was no good reason existing for interference by the President. It was regarded as probable that the President would approve the findings of the Attorney-General.

Heat Causes a New Disease.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Colombian Minister Betancourt called today on Secretary Bryan to ask for the cooperation of the United States in determining the nature of a disease, which had broken out in several Colombian cities, on the Atlantic Coast. It resembles pneumonia and has been brought on by excessive heat.

MORE THAN 3000 HOME OFFERS EVERY SUNDAY

BOY WHO WANTS HOME EXHIBITED IN SHOW WINDOW

Lad Plays in View of Passersby at 617 Locust Street, Waiting to Be Adopted.

Clifton Hayes, 18 months old, Tuesday sat in a show window at 617 Locust street and waited for someone to take him home. As it is now, he has no place to live except at the Mothers' and Babies' Home at 2047 North Taylor avenue. That is a nice place, but he is only a guest there, and he wants a real home.

It was hot in the window, and the fans wielded for his benefit did not keep him as cool as he would have liked. But he kept patient and sweet, and had the time of his life tearing down the decorations while he waited for an invitation to some home that the stork has overlooked.

"Who'll Take Me Home?"

"Who'll take me home?" was the placarded question above his head, supplemented with the information that the boy was for adoption. The crowds that gathered around the window and the inquiries made indicated that before the day was over Clifton would likely have a home.

The baby would have had a home long ago, but for one fact. He is a boy. Babyless homes do not as a rule want boy babies, the managers of the institution have found.

Clifton's mother cannot keep him because she is a widow, and has two other children, one older, who is in the country with his grandmother, and one younger, whom the mother is trying to keep while she tolls for support. About three months ago her week's wages of $6 were stolen from her.

He Has Had the Measles.

For a while the mother paid board for Clifton at the institution, but she found she could not do this longer and gave her consent that Clifton be adopted.

The women who conduct the home say Clifton is just about all right. He weighs 40 pounds. He has brown eyes and light brown hair, bobbed. He has eight teeth and more on the way. He has had the measles, thank you, and the mumps and the whooping cough, and has come through them all and is ready to grow up into a fine, healthy boy. The only thing he wants is a home.

While Clifton, in the window, was mutely appealing for a home, he was helping along the "Help the Babies" campaign for the benefit of the Mothers' and Babies' Home.

He played in the window with cards on which was printed: "Please, mister, buy a button and help us babies through the hot summer and give us a chance to live."

He was helped by Helen and Susie, 3-months-old twins, also in the window, who would be adopted in no time if their mother would give them up. Men and women looked in at te window and read the appeal and bought buttons to help the babies through the hot summer.

The Mothers' and Babies' Home cares for an average of 30 mothers every month and more than 175 children. When a mother is left dependent with children, she and her little ones can find shelter and food in the home. In many cases where children are half-orphans, parents leave their children in the home while they are employed. Employment is found for mothers whenever they are able to work.

TEST ROUTS PARALYSIS

When receiving physicians at the city hospital tested Dock Barlow's left leg for paralysis Tuesday night by pricking the calf of the leg with a sharp-pointed instrument, the patient, with a cry of pain, jumped from the operating table and demanded his immediate liberty. He was liberated.

When Barlow, a barber living at 4670 Easton avenue, was taken from a train at Union Station Tuesday night, he told the attendants that while he was visiting relatives in Bridgetown, Mo., several days ago, he fainted, and when he was revived his left leg was paralysed. But the doctors showed him otherwise.

GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN CREEK 4 DAYS AFTER BOAT RIDE

Miss Ella Winter of Baltimore Was Last Seen With D. M. Reese Jr.

ADMITS BEING WITH HER

She Left Him to Go Alone, He Says—Didn't Notify Police of Disappearance.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—Miss Ella Winter, a stenographer, disappeared Thursday night. Her body, fully clothed, but with a slight cut over the right eye, was found in Curtis Creek yesterday. Justice Charles H. Fowler of Brooklyn, Anne Arundel County, immediately ordered an autopsy. It showed no signs of violence.

D. Meredith Reese Jr., the last man who is known to have seen Miss Winter alive, and whose guest she was on his motor boat Thursday evening, says he has no theory as to how she died. He does not believe she was murdered, is sure that she was not in a suicidal mood when she left him, and he cannot understand how she could have been accidentally drowned.

Reese and Miss Winter had been close friends for about five years. His parents, her mother and brother knew of his attentions to her. Reese is divorced. It was generally believed that they were engaged.

Victim Once Reese's Stenographer.

When Reese went to New York some time ago to engage in business, Miss Winter went there also and got a place as a stenographer. When he returned to Baltimore she, too, came back and obtained employment as the stenographer for J. W. Stodard, business manager of the Baltimore American, which position she filled at the time of her death.

According to Reese and the members of his family, Miss Winter had visited the houseboat of Reese several times and was to have been one of a weekend party on the boat last Saturday night.

On Thursday evening she went to Floods Park at Curtis Bay to make some arrangements for the party. Reese says she did not go on the houseboat on Thursday, but that he took her out for a ride in his motor boat. He says they started about 8:30 o'clock. The sky became overcast and a storm seemed brewing, so at 9 o'clock he ran his boat to one of the little landing piers at Floods and she left him there.

Reese says he did not watch her further, believing that she would get to the car, a short distance away, without mishap. No one saw her alive after that.

The body when found was fully dressed, even a raincoat and yellow chamois gloves, which Miss Winter wore when she left her home at 1228 East Preston street, Thursday about 7:30 o'clock. The hat, however, was missing. The back and body were badly swollen. There was a slight abrasion of the skin over the right eye. Several diamond rings, which are believed to have been presents from Reese, were on the fingers and at the neck there was a diamond brooch.

Didn't Tell Police of Disappearance.

The authorities knew nothing of the disappearance of Miss Winter until yesterday afternoon, when the police of the Northeastern District were notified. Reese, who learned on Friday morning that Miss Winter had not returned to her home, gives as his reason for not reporting the affair, so the police say, the fact that he had hoped he might locate the missing girl himself and thus avoid unnecessary publicity.

Mrs. Laura V. Winter does not think that her daughter met with foul play, but believes that she accidentally fell overboard and was drowned.

"She had known Mr. Reese for some time. They were good friends, and I do not think that he knows anything about the cause of her death," said Mrs. Winter, who scouted the idea of suicide. "Why, she was such a jolly girl. She and I lived together, and I don't know what I will do without her. She was all I had to live for."

SIMMONS SEEMS SURE FOR RESERVE BOARD

Hamlin's Appointment Now Said to be Unlikely and "Dark Horse" is Favored.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—It was announced at the White House today that it probably would be several days before the President and the Secretary of the Treasury were ready to make known the names of the two additional members of the Federal Reserve Board.

It now seems assured that E. C. Simmons of St. Louis will be one of the members, but the appointment of Charles S. Hamlin, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who had been under consideration, does not now seem to be likely. It generally is believed that a man will be named who has not yet been suggested publicly in connection with the board.

DESTROYS WORK OF ART

Suffragette, Armed With Cleaver, Cuts Romney Picture.

BIRMINGHAM, England, June 9.—A suffragette, armed with a butcher's cleaver, today destroyed the "Portrait of a Boy" by George Romney, in the Birmingham Art Gallery.

When arrested she gave her name as Miss Ryland.

SCHUMANN-HEINK WINS A DIVORCE FROM WM. RAPP JR.

Husband's Letters to Mrs. Catherine Dean of New York Were Feature of Trial.

DEFENSE ENDS ABRUPTLY

Rapp Had Filed a Cross-Bill, but His Attorneys Called Only Four Witnesses.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 9.—A divorce was granted today to Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink from William Rapp Jr., whose ardent letters breathing love and devotion to Mrs. Catherine Dean of New York were read in the divorce trial.

The victory for the famous contralto came when Superior Judge Sullivan instructed the jury which had heard the case to return a verdict in favor of the complainant.

In announcing the ruling, Judge Sullivan referred to the recriminatory charge that, although the defendant was proved guilty, yet the complainant was likewise guilty and ought not to recover and on this point he said:

"There has been no evidence to show that the complainant is other than a good wife. It therefore becomes the duty of the Court to instruct the jury to find for the complainant."

No Mention of Alimony.

A motion for a new trial was made by counsel for Rapp. The bill filed by Mme. Schumann-Heink was for absolute divorce. No mention was made of alimony.

Mme. Schumann-Heink showed her joy at the verdict and declared that she would speedily journey to the Bayreuth Wagnerian festival in which she is to take a leading part.

The Schumann-Heink divorce hearing was marked principally by the emotional letters introduced in support of the charge that Rapp should no longer be the husband of the diva, and the repeated intimations that the defense would prove allegations against the singer which would offset the conduct charged against her husband.

No attempt was made to contradict the authenticity of the letters credited to Rapp and written in impassioned words to Mrs. Dean, and the evidence of the defense failed to show moral obliquity on the part of the opera singer.

Defense Ceases Suddenly.

Rapp's defense ceased suddenly yesterday with the testimony of only four witnesses, and the case was given over to the attorneys for argument.

Owing to the fact that Rapp filed a cross-bill charging his wife with a statutory offense, a large crowd packed the sweltering courtroom eager for testimony bearing on the counter allegations. They were disappointed.

Bryan Humphries, who was the famous singer's chauffeur for six weeks last winter, and Miss Helen Sattler, her traveling companion since 1910, were the witnesses.

Humphries said he had glimpses of George Baldwin of Appleton, Wis., off and on at his employer's home in Chicago. Miss Sattler said she had known Baldwin for two years and that she saw him last around Christmas, 1913. She said also that a policeman with a fine voice visited the singer at her home in Caldwell, N. J., for singing lessons.

"He had a wonderful voice, but all the technique he got from dropping nickels in phonographs," the witness said.

"He was a wonderful man, too, wasn't he?" asked Ben Smith, Rapp's lawyer.

"Had a Wonderful Voice."

"I did not say he was a wonderful man; I said he had a wonderful voice," said the witness.

In Chicago Miss Sattler said her employer always slept on the second floor in a room next to her daughter, Marie. A door was always open between the two rooms, she said, because the door was a sliding affair and had become jammed and could not be closed.

When Mme. Schumann-Heink rented a cottage at Culver, Ind., on the occasion of her son's graduation, it was so that the friends of her son might be received and entertained. Baldwin spent one night there and slept in a room under that of the witness.

MOVING PICTURE HOUSES TO AID PUBLIC LIBRARY

Bostwick to Be Notified of Releases So He May Get Books From Which Film Is Taken.

Arthur E. Bostwick, Public Librarian, made his annual report to Mayor Kiel Tuesday. He told a reporter that he had made arrangements with several prominent moving picture concerns to co-operate with him when a reel taken from a standard novel is produced.

Bostwick said that several of the big producers had promised to notify him in advance of their film releases in St. Louis. He said that he would then have a number of copies of the book on hand for readers.

He said that when David Copperfield was produced last year in a local house there were many extra demands for the book. This was followed by demands for other standard works from which reels had been made. He said that he was fully convinced that in this manner the movies were an aid to the library.

In investigating why a number of card holders were not taking out books, Bostwick said that one person out of 106 wrote back, "Too much movies."

STEPFATHER DIES; ALTON YOUTH WHO SHOT HIM FREED

Boy, 15 Years Old, Says He Fired Revolver When Man Knocked His Mother Down.

Leroy Lock, 15 years old, who, at 5 p. m. Monday, shot and killed his stepfather, Edward Dawes, at their home, 1518 East Third street, Alton, in defense of his mother, received food, candy and congratulatory messages from admirers during his detention at the city jail. The police recommended to the State Attorney that the boy be released, and he was free following the death of Dawes at 1 p. m. Tuesday. He gave $500 bond. Young Lock told the police that he had always hated his stepfather because of cruelty to his mother. Mrs. Dawes, formerly Mrs. Lilly Lock, conducts the Central Restaurant at East Second and Washington streets. The home is a block west of the restaurant.

Lock told the police that his stepfather came home and began upbraiding his mother because she had been visiting neighbors. He alleges that Dawes knocked his mother down, and then struck him. The boy said that he took a revolver from a dresser and fired. The bullet entered Dawes' abdomen, and lodged against the spine. Dawes died at the St. Joseph's Hospital.

"Yes. It stays around that figure all the time."

"How in the world do you keep the house so cool. Do you use your hot-air furnace as an ice-box."

"O, no. It's a simpler scheme than that."

"Let me in on it."

"I buy defective thermometers that won't register above 70 degrees."

SCULPTRESS' WORK IN CATHEDRAL HERE GOOD-BY TO WORLD

Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson Will Become Nun After Finishing Frieze.

Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson, sculptress, who is now engaged in carving the sacred sculptures in the transept of the New St. Louis Cathedral, will leave the outside world, after her present task is finished, and will become a nun of the Sisters of Charity. She is now a novice in the order, which has its headquarters at Mount St. Vincent on the Hudson, near New York. Her home, during her stay in St. Louis, is with Mrs. John I. Hines, 4215 McPherson avenue.

Miss Wilson's work has attracted wide attention, and her "Minute Man" in the Corcoran Gallery in Washington is a well-known piece of sculpture. In recent years she has given her attention wholly to religious themes, and at the same time her own purpose of entering the religious life, which she is now about to carry out, was formed.

Carves Continuous Frieze.

The frieze which she is carving for the Cathedral transept is to take the place of the customary separate sculptures of the stations of the cross. Instead of being separate small groups of figures, the design will be continuous, showing the different stages of the condemnation, crucifixion and entombment of Jesus.

The frieze is 15 feet from the floor, and Miss Wilson stands on a scaffolding as she works on it. She does not wear her novice's veil while at this work, though she wears it at other times, particularly when she appears at social gatherings of women. At a recent tea in the Queen's Daughters' Home, 3730 Lindell boulevard, she gave readings from her poems, for she is a writer as well as an artist.

400 Full-Size Figures.

The large statue of Christ, which surmounts the Long Island Mortuary Chapel, was Miss Wilson's work. Her present task required more study and attention to detail than any of her previous undertakings. In the cycloramas which she is executing for the Cathedral some 400 full size figures appear, and several scenes contain a well sustained "mob" effect.

Miss Wilson was a native of Cincinnati and was aided in the beginning of her career as a sculptor by Karl Bitter, chief of sculpture for the St. Louis World's Fair, and J. Q. A. Ward. She designed the spandrels, or decorations over the doorway, for the facade of the Machinery Building at the World's Fair.

FOUR MEN KILLED IN AUTO

GOLDFIELD, Nev., June 9.—Dr. E. A. Wheeler and Daniel Falvey, Cyrus Rice and Herman Kruger were killed early today in an automobile accident when returning from Tonopah.

Dr. Wheeler, one of the best known physicians of Nevada, was driving the car. He turned to avoid another machine, and the car plunged over an embankment.

MEDIATORS' PEACE PLAN IS READY FOR FINAL DISCUSSION

Method of Transferring Power From Huerta to Provisional Government and the Calling of Elections Are Agreed Upon by Delegates.

Ad Interim President Not Chosen, but Constitutionalists Are to Have Two Important Places in Provisional Cabinet.

United States to Ask No Money Indemnity—"Plan of Guadalupe" Prevents Carranza's Participation in Conference.

By Associated Press.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario, June 9.—The mediators today submitted to the Mexican delegates the counter proposals of the American Government for the pacification of Mexico. The American plan is with few modifications the same as that which the mediators and Mexican delegates recently agreed and which Gen. Huerta approved. It provides the method of transferring the executive power in Mexico City from the present regime to a new provisional government which shall in a few months conduct elections for President, Vice-President and members of the Congress.

No names have been agreed upon between the Mexican or American delegates for the new provisional president or his Cabinet. In fact neither side has yet made its nominations.

The program of the proceedings is about as follows:

Within a day or two the Mexican plan and the American plan will have been dovetailed into one and a full conference of all parties will be called.

America to Speak for Rebels.

Final approval is not expected immediately from either party, however, as the mediators then will ask the American delegates to begin to ascertain the attitude of the Constitutionalists. This may proceed through the Washington Government or in any manner the delegates choose. The mediators will take a brief recess in the meantime.

Should there be any new suggestions from the Constitutionalists the United States Government will endeavor to arrive at a compromise with them.

When an agreement is reached the results will again be placed before the Mediation Board and the Huerta delegates. The expectation is that if the Constitutionalists are willing to discuss the peace plan with the American Government an agreement can be reached in a short time, as the program already makes provision for liberal participation by the Constitutionalists in the new provisional government.

The correspondence between the mediators and the Constitutionalists is expected to be brought to an end in another day or two. The mediators are insistent on their original terms—declaration of an armistice and broadening the discussion from international or internal conditions. The Constitutionalists are willing to meet the mediators on a satisfactory basis as to the latter point, but they are absolutely determined against any armistice.

The Constitutionalists have argued that to declare an armistice without knowing in advance the terms of the peace plan is like buying an article of apparel without knowing if it will fit. They maintain that their military organization cannot be disrupted for a short period and held at rest without considerable danger of military chiefs losing control of their restless troops.

Constitutionalists Are Pledged.

Another factor is that all the military chiefs and leaders, over a year ago, signed a pact, known as the plan of Guadalupe, which provides specifically that the Constitutionalists shall take possession of Mexico City by force of arms and establish a provisional presidency. To effect a chance in that plan harmoniously, another conference of chiefs might be necessary, and this could not be had, the Constitutionalists say, unless there was framed in advance a peace plan likely to be satisfactory to all. They think changes in the plan of Guadalupe could be made, and the revolution settled by diplomatic means, but they are unwilling to run the risk of an armistice without having first discussed the peace proposals among themselves.

With this view, the American Government is more or less in sympathy, and a compromise arrangement is believed to be in sight, whereby the peace plan will be taken up with the Constitutionalists in channels separate from the mediation. As a result no protocol can be signed in the next fortnight, it is believed, and probably there will be a lull in the conferences.

Everything that has been advanced by the American delegates in their proposals for peace has been contingent upon ultimate Constitutionalist approval, so that there is a confidence in many quarters that agreement with the Constitutionalists will not be a difficult task, even if they do not join in the conferences.

The Constitutionalists undoubtedly will have a voice in the selection of the man to be Provisional President, and at least two of their number would occupy the principal portfolios of the new Cabinet.

Peace Plan in 300 Words.

The land and educational questions are simply declarations of principles on which reforms later may be undertaken and do not commit the new Government to any definite program.

It is said the entire peace plan is explained in less than 300 words. It sets forth suggestions for the conduct of a fair election and recommends that recognition be accorded the new provisional government, provided it is set up along the lines agreed upon.

An intimation that the United States would not demand reparation for the losses sustained at Vera Cruz or expected to be recouped for the enormous expenditure already made in an attempt to pacify Mexico was given to the Mexican delegates soon after the conferences opened. This made it easy for the opposing delegates to meet harmoniously. It was responsible largely for the ease with which a general understanding was reached between them and it lent consistency to the American demand that consideration be given to the Constitutionalist cause.

The submission yesterday of the American plan, accompanied by verbal statements from the delegates of the United States, removed all doubt that this country was not disposed to make any unnecessary drain upon Mexico's already depleted finances.

Disposition of Antilla's Cargo Still in Doubt.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—With danger of a clash between the United States and Huerta averted at Tampico, interest in the Mexican situation was turned abruptly to the mediation conference after the receipt of reports that the South American envoys personally were inclined to consider at an end their efforts to bring Carranza into the proceedings unless he agreed to an armistice.

Constitutionalist agents here expected to hear from Carranza today. Persons close to them asserted Carranza would not agree to any armistice with the Federals. The Constitutionalist chief was believed to have arrived at Saltillo yesterday. If his answer were received here today it was planned to forward it to the mediators immediately.

Suggestions from Niagara Falls that the Mexican delegates were assuming that the United States would deal with Carranza if he did not enter the conference immediately drew from persons in touch with the Constitutionalist agency here a reiteration that the republic's interna. affairs could not be taken up for settlement. However, in many quarters confidence persisted that a way would be found that would result in a broadening of mediation's scope.

Huerta's Gunboats Withdraw.

While Huerta's gunboats that had threatened a blockade of Tampico sailed back to Puerto Mexico today, interest continued as to whether the steamer Antilla, which cleared from New York, carrying arms for Carranza, would deliver them. Official statements of the disposition of the case were not forthcoming. An official of the Ward Line, which owns the Antilla, was quoted as saying that the steamer was due to arrive at Tampico Wednesday "unless the United States Government sends orders to her captain not to go into that port."

50-CENT SHIRT WITHOUT A LABEL CAUSES FIGHT

Purchaser Demands Money Back When He Finds No Union Mark; Merchant Is Fined.

After buying a shirt for 50 cents from Marcus Treiman, a clothing merchant of 1904 South Broadway, Joseph Rump, a brewery worker of 1900 South Seventh street took the shirt home and looked for a union label in it.

Failing to find the label Rump took the shirt back and demanded that Treiman refund his half-dollar.

"Get a union label and sew it in this shirt yourself," said Treiman. Then the fight started. Both were arrested and charged with peace disturbance. Judge Kimmel in the Municipal Police Court, Tuesday, discharged Rump and fined Treiman $5. Teh fine was stayed on Treiman's promise that he would not again disturb the peace.

GIRL SURPRISES PARENTS BY QUIET MARRIAGE

Miss Hilda Lartonoix of Jefferson City and W. B. Griffitts of St. Louis Wed.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Miss Hilda Lartonoix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lartonoix, and a leader of the younger social set here, surprised her parents and friends when she was married to W. B. Griffitts of 732 North Euclid avenue, St. Louis.

Griffitts is a traveling salesman and makes this territory. He motored to Jefferson City from St. Louis Sunday with K. M. Roberts, also of St. Louis. Friends of the young woman were expecting the nuptials, but supposed a large public wedding would be given.

The couple went quietly to the license office and were married in the restroom at the courthouse at 9 a. m. Monday by the Rev. F. M. Burton, pastor of the M. E. Church. After receiving parental forgiveness, they departed for St. Louis, where they will reside.

WOMAN FOUND IN ROOM UNCONSCIOUS FRM BLOW

Mrs. Beverly James, an advertising writer, housekeeper at the home of Albert B. Greene, an artist, 4952 Scott avenue, was found in her room unconscious by Greene at 5:30 o'clock Monday evening. She had been struck on the head. She remained unconscious until Tuesday forenoon. On partly recovering she was unable to give an intelligible account of what had happened.

Mrs. James is believed to have been injured by a negro who was carrying wood into the cellar under her direction at 11 a. m. It is thought that he knocked her down with a piece of wood in the cellar. Two watches were stolen from her room. It is not known how she reached her room, where Greene found her.

Consult the Foot Specialist

at Our Store This Week

For the benefit of all who may have foot troubles—whose feet ache or pain, or who tire easily—we have obtained the services of a well-known foot specialist, and he will be at our store throughout this week.

You are invited to consult him in our Men's Shoe Department in the mornings and in the Women's Shoe Department in the afternoons.

His services are free and it is not necessary that you buy your shoes here to benefit by his advice.

We have inaugurated an Orthopedic Department for the relief and care of all foot troubles, where we will carry a representative line of foot specialties made by The Scholl Mfg. Co. of Chicago, New York and London.

There is a Scholl comfort appliance or remedy for every footache or pain.

Tomorrow We Shall Feature Nightgowns

in Our June Sale of White

While we have a tremendous stock of all kinds of Muslin Undergarments in this June Sale, and every requirement can be met, we are featuring, for tomorrow, our line of Nightgowns, among which these are numbered:

The Gown illustrated is a very attractive model, having yoke and short sleeves of Swiss and Val. insertions and wide embroidery beading at bottom of yoke drawn with ribbon. Price $1.98

A Slipover Nightgown of longcloth made in round-neck style and trimmed with open embroidery and Barmen edge, is priced at 48c

At 98c we have about every style of Nightgown imaginable; the materials are nainsook, crepe, longcloth and cambric. There are high, V-neck, square and low round-neck gowns—an Empire Slipover has solid yoke and short sleeves of Val. insertions and embroidery ribbon beading under bust and through sleeves. Value $1.50, sale price 98c

One Cambric Gown has yoke elaborately trimmed with open and blind embroidery insertion, lace insertions and edge. Price 98c

Nainsook Empire Nightgowns with Swiss yoke inserted with Val. lace butterfly medallions. Price $1.35

Nainsook Gown in slipover style has front and back yoke and sleeves of Val. lace insertions and embroidery ribbon beading. Another style with square slipover neck is trimmed in front and back with Val. insertions and has lace sleeves. Price $1.98

Dainty Crepe de Chine Nightgowns may be had in either pink or white, trimmed with Picot edge and ribbon drawn. Price $5.00

One pretty Gown has baby-yoke effect of Val. insertions and embroidery beading at neck, below bust and on sleeves, another has bolero yoke and sleeves of shadow lace, finished with pump bow, and many other pretty styles at $2.98

We have just received from the Philippines a special importation of Hand-embroidered Crepe de Chine Nightgowns and Envelope Chemises that were designed especially for us. A beautiful quality of crepe de chine has been used and the shapes are perfect.

The Nightgowns are priced $10.00 to $12.50

The Envelope Chemises $8.75

Women's Coats for Summer

We have received another lot of Linen Dusters which are proving so popular for traveling and automobile wear. They are made in both loose and belted styles, and are full length. They have convertible collar and mannish slanting pockets. Excellent values at $4.00 and $5.50

We have about 15 Women's smart three-quarter length cotton Ratine Coats that are unlined and made with deep, set-in sleeves and long roll revers; collar and cuffs trimmed with silk braid. Choice of tan or Copenhagen. Regular value $10.75. Clearance prices $5.00 and $5.50

Third Floor.

Stocking Special for Women

Once more one of America's largest and most prominent makers of Silk Stockings has sent us his accumulation of Ingrain and Thread Silk Stockings that were not quite up to his high standard of excellence and, therefore, were classed as "slightly imperfect." The imperfections, in many cases, can only be detected by an expert, and in no case do they mar the appearance or affect the wearing qualities of the stockings.

More than half of the lot are black stockings, while the balance is in assorted colors. Nearly all have lisle garter tops and lisle soles. These are the grades that regularly retail at $1.00 and $1.25 a pair. Choice, while they last, at the special price of 69c

First Floor.

Warehouse Removal Sale Number 3

Slightly Used in Demonstrating

The real event of the entire series of warehouse removal sales is offered this week. The best instruments, the biggest values are on sale now. They will not last long. The eagerness with which buyers have made selections from our stock of used pianos and players offered during the past two weeks, indicates that there are many Saint Louis families waiting for just such a money-saving, value-giving opportunity.

You never saw so much piano quality offered for so little.

The Prices Have Been Cut Twice

These instruments have been only slightly used and have been refinished so that it is not easy to tell them from new.

We cut a good round sum off each piano and player-piano in this lot, for their having been used in demonstrations. Then we cut them again to save the cost of moving from the old warehouse to the new, big warehouse which will be ready the latter part of June or early in July.

The early comers will have the best choosing.

We can only list a few. Here are some:

PLAYER-PIANOS (SLIGHTLY USED)

$335 Fischer for	$295	$390 Stratford for	$330
$410 Vandervoort for	$365	$430 Vandervoort for	$375
Vose	$545	$660 Fischer for	$595

SOME USED PIANOS

Taken in Exchange are Included in This Week's Sale

These Instruments Have Been Sacrificed With Small Regard as to Their Value. We Want Them Out of the Way When the Warehouse Removal Begins.

A Few of the Many Are Listed Below

Krakauer	$75	Everett	$75	Gibson	$85
Gabler	$100	Gabler	$100	Steger	$115
Whitaker	$130	Fischer	$150	Story & Clark	$160
Gabler	$90	Wheelock	$90	Bush & Gerts	$250

Convenient Terms of Payment Extended

We Will Gladly Arrange Terms That Will Place This Opportunity Within Easy Reach of Most Everyone.

Bent Bones That Were Bent by Pointed Shoes

Straight Bones That Grew Straight in Educator Shoes

"Comfortable as an Old Shoe Yet Proud to Pass a Mirror"

EDUCATORS feel like old shoes from the first hour you wear them. And they look like new after wear that would make other shoes look disreputable.

Why? Because they are made in the shape of natural feet. Plenty of foot-space without looseness. They let the child's foot grow as it should—let grown-ups' bent foot-bones straighten out—and cures, bunions, etc., cure themselves.

Made for men, women, children; $1.35 to $5.50. The name EDUCATOR branded on the sole guarantees you the correct orthopædic shape which lets your feet grow as Nature intended.

Just see how good your foot looks—and feels—in Educators, to-day. All good shoe stores sell Educators. If you have any trouble finding them, write us.

DAVIS LIKES BENEVOLENT DESPOTISM AT VERA CRUZ

Author Tells How It Operates to Speed Up Waiters, Close Gambling Houses and Clean the City— Work Is Most Thorough.

By Richard Harding Davis.

Copyright, 1914, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

VERA CRUZ, June 9.—I have paid taxes to governments of several foreign countries, and my experience is that the most desirable form of government is a benevolent despotism—especially if you are a friend of the despot.

That Havana is a healthy and beautiful city is because Gen. Gorgas was backed by the benevolent despot, Gen. Leonard Wood. That the Isthmus of Panama is a health resort instead of a graveyard, and that the canal is finished are again due to Gen. Gorgas and to that other pre-eminent despot, Colonel, now Gov. Goethals.

Here in Vera Cruz we are enjoying the blessings of despotism. For example, the other morning the waiter was a half-hour longer than usual in bringing my coffee. When I asked why, he said he had been in jail. He explained that he had been slow in serving an army officer at the next table, and the army officer had called a policeman to the sidewalk—everyone here eats on the sidewalk—and had locked the waiter in a cell.

Calls Policeman, Then a Waiter.

So now when I sit down to breakfast I first beckon a policeman to my table and then beckon a waiter. It is the only satisfactory method of handling the servant problem. When I get back to Winchester County, if, after reading this, any of my servants still remain, I will put all of them in jail.

Gen. Funston is the benevolent despot of Vera Cruz, and the city is governed by martial law. Under orders from Funston is the Provost Marshal, Col. E. H. Plummer of the Twenty-eighth Infantry. Under his orders are the Mexican police. They are not allowed to arrest men wearing our uniform. So, also, under Col. Plummer are the infantry and naval marines, who patrol the streets and preserve the peace between too jovial sailors and too obstreperous soldiers. How quickly peace obtains at the mere sight of a man with a fixed bayonet is a psychological fact some of those at Washington should study.

Also under the Provost Marshal is the department of public works, commanded by Maj. Paul Wolf of the Fourth Infantry. The department of health is in the hands of Maj. T. C. Lyster and Maj. Noble of the medical corps. These two departments, though under separate commanders, are dependent on each other and work in harmony and to the public benefit.

Majors Lyster and Noble work inside houses and Maj. Wolf outside. Maj. Lyster points out insanitary markets, kitchens and laundries. Maj. Wolf sends men to make them clean. Lyster says that a field of weeds is a breeding place for mosquitoes. Wolf drains the field and sprinkles pools and swamps with crude oil.

These officers are picked men and experts. Maj. Noble served as right hand man to Gen. Gorgas for five years in Panama and accompanied him when, at the invitation of the Government of South Africa he went there to suggest improvements in the care of natives in the diamond fields.

Learned Work in Havana.

Maj. Lyster was five years in charge of the public health of Havana, in medical work of the same sort in the Philippines, where he built a prison to hold 600 native inmates, using only native labor. Later he was detailed as executive officer at Leavenworth prison, where drainage sewers and water supply were under his direction.

Both departments are fortunate in their assistants, who are refugee Americans. Many of these are working from motives of patriotism. They are medical men who have had large paying practice in Mexico City and engineers from mines. Even the foremen of street-cleaning gangs are of a splendid type. They are stranded here and need the money. In consequence the departments command the services of men worth many times what the army is allowed to pay them. The men are experienced in handling native labor, speak Spanish easily and are glad to escape from the idleness and boredom of the life of Portales.

In the appointment of the men there is no politics and as they are not working for what there is in it, but because they would rather work than sit idle, there is no graft. The first to learn this were the gamblers and proprietresses of houses in the "red light" district. As a matter of course they came to Funston and inquired cheerfully to which officer they should pay tribute. They were grieved to find that that officer had been given a perpetual leave of absence.

When the army first arrived, gambling houses were many and wide open. The morning after I won 100 pesos—which in real money is about $40—at once Funston closed all of them. The proprietor of the one I patronized still shakes his head at me reproachfully. He undoubtedly thinks the General and I split his money fifty-fifty and then closed his place so that he could not win it back. He wrongs us, but I still have his money. It is another argument in favor of a benevolent despotism.

Boxing Instead of Bull Fights.

After the lid was screwed down on gambling, bull fighting was stopped and in the bull ring boxing was substituted. With the change everyone, especially the bull, was delighted, except the bull fighters. They were invited to witness the boxing. They pronounced it a brutal and demoralizing spectacle.

In other ways the American despots have interfered with the inalienable rights of a Mexican to enjoy the sufferings of others. It used to be that when a Mexican was intoxicated the police roped him and lashed him to a handcart. They then, to the delight of the populace, wheeled him through the streets. Like a wild animal caught in a net he snarled and struggled. I have seen a man and a woman lashed together in the same cart, kicking and fighting, and followed by a delighted mob.

Benevolent despotism has changed that. Now we have Black Marias, painted white and scarlet, with curtains discreetly drawn. They are so attractive that to ride in one is a pleasure. They almost encourage intoxication.

Before the army arrived the streets of Vera Cruz were filled with beggars, lame, blind and diseased. From hotel to hotel they dragged themselves, showing their sores and exhibiting pitiful or monstrous deformities. To come in contact with some of them was to acquire horrible unnamed diseases. They have been removed to hospitals or furnished with enough money to put them beyond the need of making capital out of their misfortunes.

Worse than the condition of the beggars was that of the dogs that overran the city. In print their state cannot be explained. If it made us suffer to look at them, it can be imagined what the animals themselves endured. Benevolent despotism reached out its hand and removed them also.

Another order of the Provost Marshal forbids after 10 o'clock the sale anywhere of alcoholic drinks. This applies to everybody, but is especially wise in helping patrols get sailors back to ships and soldiers to barracks.

Another order intended to stop the citizens of Vera Cruz cheating our soldiers, sailors and marines, made them print a list of prices of all drinks and food and each day in conspicuous signs give the rate of exchange.

Gen. Funston found many excellent laws and ordinances on the statute books of the municipality, but they had seldom been enforced. When they had been it was to obtain graft. Under the American Board of Health these ordinances ceased to remain dead and became vigorously alive. No bribes could kill them. Inspectors were sent into every house in the city and all the rubbish that for years had accumulated and was breeding flies and disease was forcibly removed, piled in the street and burned. For an entire week the city looked like an old time election night.

Back of the city was a public dump spreading over an area of a quarter-mile square. This was a battle ground for flies, buzzards and mongrel dogs. If you threw a stone anywhere into this mess you would raise a cloud of flies so thick you could photograph it. Buzzards swarmed in the plaza, and dogs covered with mange and open sores, overran it, and carrying the flies with them, roamed at large among the tables of the Portales. This dump is now reduced to an incinerating plant, burning continually, which destroys garbage and refuse.

Practical Prescription Against Stomach Acidity

Nine-tenths of all cases of stomach trouble nowadays are caused by too much acid. In the beginning the stomach itself is not diseased, but if this acid condition is allowed to continue, the acid is very likely to eat into the stomach walls and produce stomach ulcers, which may render a radical surgical operation necessary even to prolong life. Therefore, an "acid stomach" is really a dangerous condition and should be treated seriously. It is utterly useless to take pepsin and ordinary stomach tablets. The excess acid or stomach hyperacidity must be neutralized by the administration of an efficient antacid. For this purpose the best remedy is bisurated magnesia taken in teaspoonful doses in a fourth of a glass of water after each meal. Larger quantities may be used if necessary, as it is absolutely harmless. Be sure to ask for the bisurated magnesia, as other forms of magnesia make effective mouth washes, but they have not the same action on the stomach as the bisurated. You can get Bisurated Magnesia at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Weipert Drug Co., Judge & Dolph Drug Co. or Johnson Bros.—ADV.

WOMAN ORDERED HELD FOR CAUSING RELATIVE'S DEATH

Emil Siekmann, 78, Struck With Can of Pears Thrown by Daughter-in-Law, Dies.

The arrest of Mrs. Lena Siekmann, 22 years old, of 1217 Kraft avenue, was ordered by Police Captain Schwartz of the Mounted District Tuesday following a report to the Coroner that the death of her father-in-law, Emil Siekmann 78 years old, of 6643 Villa avenue, was indirectly caused by her striking him on the head with a can of preserved pears, May 26.

Siekmann died at his home at 9:15 p. m. Monday. Dr. R. C. Blackmer of 6778 Manchester avenue refused to issue a death certificate. He told the Coroner Siekmann died of erysipelas, which developed from a slight scalp wound caused by the blow with the can of pears.

Mrs. Lena Siekmann Tuesday told reporters that she threw the can at her father-in-law after he had attempted to choke her. She did not know the can had struck him until she learned of his death Monday night, she said.

Mrs. Siekmann was married five years ago. She and her husband, George Siekmann, lived for a year at the home of her husband's parents. When they decided to go to housekeeping for themselves her father-in-law became angry and had not since been friendly to her. She remained on good terms with her mother-in-law.

Mrs. Siekmann May 26 bought a basketful of groceries and on her way home she stopped to see her mother-in-law. She did not enter the house, but stood talking to her mother-in-law at the back door, she said, when her father-in-law came out and ordered her from the premises.

He advanced on her, she said, trying to clutch her throat with his hands, and he kicked over the basket of groceries. She stooped and picked up a can of pears, and threw it at Siekmann.

Siekmann, she said, continued to pursue her, and hit her across the left wrist with a broomstick. It hurt so much that she thought her arm was broken, she said. Then, according to her account, her father-in-law dragged her behind a cowshed, and was choking her, when her mother-in-law and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tillie Ramer, of 6644 Villa avenue, pulled him away.

The elder Mrs. Siekmann denied that her husband tried to choke his daughter-in-law. She said she did not see Mrs. Lena Siekmann throw the can of pears.

ASKS DIVORCE BECAUSE WIFE WISHED HIM FAT

Singer Denies She Said It Then Doctor Testifies He Saw Fat Man Fondle Her.

Edward W. Trautwein of 3727 St. Ferdinand avenue, who weighs about 140 pounds, told Judge Fisher, in his divorce suit against Mary Wade Trautwein Monday, that she had told him she wished he was fat, and that she loved fat men.

Mrs. Trautwein declared she never said any such thing, so Judge Fisher, who took the husband's suit and the wife's crossbill under advisement, will have to consider some of the other points in the testimony. The chief outside witness was Dr. E. P. Green of Henson, Okla., where the Trautweins formerly lived. He said he once saw a fat man fondling Mrs. Trautwein. She denied this, and said Dr. Henson disliked her because she had refused to elope with him at a time when he was having domestic difficulties. The doctor denied this.

Mrs. Trautwein is now a cabaret singer, and some of the testimony related to annoyances caused her by her husband at places where she sang.

We charge to know that your silverware, paintings, bric-a-brac and other valuables will be safe while you are away this summer? Then store them in the fire and burglar-proof vaults of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., Fourth and Locust. The assurance of safety surely warrants the small expense.

MAYOR KIEL TO OPEN CITY'S POOL THURSDAY

Life Guards Will Give Swimming and Diving Exhibitoin as Preliminary Event.

The Fairground Municipal Swimming Pool will be opened formally at 2 p. m. Thursday, when Mayor Kiel will officiate and 20 life guards, appointed for the summer, will give exhibitions of swimming and diving. The preliminaries will last about two hours. The pool will be thrown open to the public at 4 p. m.

The pool will be open during the day after Thursday until Monday, when the double shift will begin. The hours, commencing then, will be 9 a. m. until 1 p. m., 2 p. m. until 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. until 10 p. m. Tuesday and Fridays will be reserved exclusively for women. Couples only will be extended the privileges of the pool Monday nights. No man unaccompanied by a woman will be permitted to enter.

The pool has been informally open to men and boys for several days during the afternoon. The tests for life guard positions occupied the mornings. Thomas Whitaker has been appointed captain of the guards.

Ferguson Man Injured by Train.

George Wagner of Georgia avenue. Ferguson, while running to catch an accommodation train at 8 a. m. Tuesday, at Ferguson, was struck by an eastbound freight passing on another track. His collarbone was broken.

30 MILES OF ROAD USED TO CONTROL PRICE OF TIMBER

Public Service Board Reveals Unique Scheme of American Car & Foundry Co.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—A unique scheme of the American Car and Foundry Co., a $60,000,000 corporation, through subsidiary corporations to force timber owners of four Missouri counties to sell to it their timber at practically its own price is revealed in an opinion handed down today by Commissioner William F. Woerner of the Public Service Commission of Missouri.

By dividing 30 miles of railroad, all owned by the American company, through subsidiaries, into four separate parts, the rails of which connect, but which are controlled by corporations of different names, the company has for years successfully prevented timber owners from reaching outside markets with their timber. The commission holds that the entire railroad shall be opened to public use.

The Sligo Furnace Co., a subsidiary of the American company, requires large amounts of timber, and has purchased it from the land along its railroad. The owners of this timber were denied the right to ship over the American company's railroad, and if they did not sell to the Sligo Furnace Co. they could not sell at all. These timber owners appealed to the commission for relief.

How the Scheme Works.

The scheme, as explained in the opinion, is:

The Frisco Railroad has a spur five and one-half miles long from its tracks to Sligo, in Dent County. The Sligo Furnace Co. owned land about Sligo from which it got its timber. Having exhausted the timber supply within reach, it became necessary to extend a railroad into the forests.

It organized the Sligo & Eastern as a common carrier, this being necessary because it must cross public highways. However, it did not start the Sligo & Eastern from the end of the rails of the Frisco spur. Between the two it interposed 1000 feet of rails on its own property, which, it has contended, were private. This road runs 12 miles to Dillard Crawford County.

After exhausting the timber along the Sligo & Eastern, the company desired to extend its rails farther. It acquired control of a strip of land 11 miles long. As it did not have to cross public highways this 11 miles of railroad was constructed as a private logging road of the furnace company.

The timber along this route being exhausted the company organized the Iron County Central Railroad, extending six miles into Iron County. This section of line was organized as a common cirrier because it crossed public highways.

The effect of this scheme is that the Sligo & Eastern operates trains for the furnace company over the entire length of road, but refuses to haul freight for any person or company except the furnace company. It contends it has the right to refuse to permit freight to be hauled over its 11 miles of private track between the Sligo & Eastern and the Iron County Central, and over the 1000 feet of private tract between the Sligo & Eastern and the Frisco spur.

All Outlets Are Closed.

Thus no person or company along the length of this road has an outlet. That section of Missouri has few railroads, and this line would be the only outlet for a district about 15 miles wide and extending for 80 miles in Dent, Crawford, Iron, Washington and Reynolds counties.

The community of interests between the various corporations is shown by the fact that they have one office, that of the American Car & Foundry Co., in the Syndicate Trust Building, and by the officers. C. F. Rogers, who is president of the Sligo Eastern, also is president of the Sligo Furnace Co. J. M. Buick, vice-president of the American Co., is secretary of the Sligo & Eastern and the Sligo Furnace Co. S. S. Delano is treasurer of three companies.

Commissioner Woerner found that the Sligo Furnace Co. furnished the funds for the Sligo & Eastern and the Iron County Central. Edward F. Goltra was president of the furnace company and the Sligo & Eastern when that road was built, but later the American Car and Foundry Co. obtained the Sligo Furnace Co. and with it the various railroad companies.

Companies the Same, Says Woerner.

In his opinion Commissioner Woerner said:

"The stockholders, officers and directors of the three companies ostensibly are not quite identical. On the books there are some in each company who are not in the other two. But we think there is no doubt that this apparent diversity is ostensible only, and was artificially created for the purposes of a simulated independence, and to avoid an appearance of absolute community of interest, which in reality does exist. From every consideration here essential they are separate only as the different limbs of the same organism, or the different departments of a large department store."

In concluding its opinion, the commission orders that the Sligo Furnace Co. permit the use of the 1000 feet of track and of the 11 miles of logging road in the operation of trains as a common carrier, that the Sligo & Eastern shall operate its trains as common carriers over the entire system, that the Sligo & Eastern shall file with the commission its schedule of tariffs and that all the orders shall be effective July 10, 1914.

Great Sale of FINE Summer Dresses

$23.50 for Choice of 150 of the Most Delightful Summer Frocks—Duplicates of the Very Dresses the Ultra-Fashionable New York Women are Now Wearing

There have been no reservations for anyone.

Sale will begin tomorrow morning promptly at 9 o'clock.

There will be no C. O. D., no phone orders, and none of these Dresses will be sent on approval or accepted for exchange.

When a store can secure the very highest class Costumes and Dresses to sell at a price such as $23.50, a certain feeling of curiosity arises in the mind of every woman, which only a complete explanation can satisfy.

We are going to tell you the innermost secrets of this coup—for it is one of the best "buys" this section has ever consummated.

Messrs Hirsch & Cohen, Madison Av., New York, Whose Names to the World of Dresses Stand for Fully as Much as Does the Name of Max Schwarcz in a Tailored Suit or Coat, Resolved on

A Dissolution of Partnership

This lot of 150 of the finest Dresses Hirsch & Cohen had turned out during their entire career, was secured by the Dress chief, at a very small price, and that's the reason the unusual opportunity which is scheduled for tomorrow comes to you.

The styles are replicas of the best efforts of such French couturieres as Worth, Paquin, Paul Poiret, Callot, Premet and others.

Many of the Dresses are made with long tunic overskirts, double tunic flounce skirts and other unique style touches.

As to Materials—

The materials, and trimmings, too, are the very finest obtainable—the fabrics, in the main, being the products of Rodier & Co., high-class Paris importers.

There are crisp, new Summery Frocks of

Voiles, Crepes, Ratines, Embroidered Tissues, Cotton Crepons, Novelty Organdies, Batistes, Pure Linens

And every pretty Summer color imaginable, as well as stripes, figures and floral designs are here in this quite wonderful collection.

There Are Many Dresses in This Lot Which Ordinarily Would Sell for as High as $60

Others valued at $35, $40 and $45—choice, $23.50

Harvest Hand Bulletins Posted.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 9.—Uncle Sam is posting bulletins in every postoffice in the country telling of the need for hands to harvest the wheat crop in Missouri, Kansas and South Dakota. The bulletins posted here today stated that Kansas needs 40,000 men and Missouri 30,000. No number is specified for South Dakota.

PALACES AND GEMS ARE ONLY A MYTH; WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Telegraph Operator Sues When Husband Who Promised Riches to Her Disappears.

Mrs. Hazel Kiefer of 2239 Alberta street, who is in charge of the telegraph office at the Marquette Hotel, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit Court Tuesday against Ferd Kiefer. The petition, filed by Attorney Glenn Jones, discloses that last fall she was the heroine of a hurry-up wedding at McLeansboro, Ill. Her husband, the petition alleges, represented himself as the possessor of great wealth, a mansion, automobiles and "the most valuable collection of jewels on the American Continent." After two months he went away.

Most of the St. Louis friends of Mrs. Kiefer have not known of her marriage and have continued to call her by her maiden name, Hazel Kocher.

Miss Kocher was manager of the telegraph office at McLeansboro when Kiefer came along, manager of a carnival company. He was rather an impressive person of 40 or thereabouts and when he gave the pretty 20-year-old telegraph girl to understand that he had fallen very hopelessly in love with her she was flattered and pleased.

Bride Almost Gets a Diamond.

Within two or three days he had asked Miss Kocher to be Mrs. Kiefer and she, only half in earnest, had said yes. Within a week they were married, on Aug. 25, 1913.

In her petition Mrs. Kiefer says Kiefer told her that he and the head of a large jewelry firm in St. Louis had been chums at Princeton and that the jeweler had promised Kiefer than when he got married his bride should be presented with the finest diamond in the store.

The couple came to St. Louis on their honeymoon, but the "finest diamond" never materialized.

Two Months at Bride's Home.

Prior to their marriage and during their honeymoon, the petition says, Kiefer dazzled her with stories of his palatial mansion in Dayton, O., his yacht, automobile, private garage and the army of servants at his beck and call. But one day he drifted away and never came back.

GEORGE: I've seen a "perfect love of a ring at Loftis Bros. & Co.'s, the National Credit Jewelers, for $50, and all you pay is $1.25 a week or $5 a month. Meet me at their store, 2d fl., 308 N. 6th. Open evenings.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL PASSED IN DENMARK

Measure Also Abolishes System by Which the Wealthy Chose the Upper House.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 9.—Enactment of woman suffrage in Denmark and abolition of all property qualifications for electors of members of the Upper House is proposed by a Constitutional amendment bill which passed the Lower House of the Danish Parliament today. The vote for the measure was 102, while only six Deputies cast their votes against it. Six did not vote.

The bill takes away from the crown its present right to nominate 12 members out of the 66 composing the Upper House, and withdraws the special privileges by which the remaining 54 members of that legislative body are elected. By the existing system they are chosen by the Electoral College, a third of whose delegates represent the highest taxpayers in the country districts, a third the highest taxpayers in the cities, and a third the rest of the community. As two-thirds of the college represent the wealthy classes, and generally act in unison, the working classes are virtually excluded from a voice in the selection of members of the Upper House

RIBOT, NEW PREMIER, FORMS FRENCH MINISTRY

PARIS, June 9.—Senator Alexandre Felix Ribot announced today that he had formed a new Cabinet to succeed that of Premier Gaston Doumergue.

Five of the members are Senators and seven Deputies. M. Ribot will be Premier and Minister of Justice.

His associates will be: Foreign Affairs, Senator Leon Bourgeois; Finance, Deputy Etienne Clementel; Marine, Deputy Theophile Delcasse; War, Deputy Joseph Noulens; Interior, Senator Paul Peytral; Public Instruction, Deputy Arthur Dessoye; Public Works, Senator Jean Dupuy; Colonies, Senator Emile Chautemps; Commerce, Deputy Marc Reville; Agriculture, Deputy Adrian Dariac; Labor, Deputy Maurice Maunoury.

HORSESHOE LAKE WILL BE SEINED BY WARDEN

T. F. Brunk, a Game and Fish Warden, is preparing to seine all of the fish out of Horseshoe Lake, three miles northeast of Granite City, and put them in Chouteau Slough and Long Lake, fishing resorts, about six miles further north.

Horseshoe Lake may go dry, and the fish would die for lack of water and become a menace to the public health, Mr. Brunk says.

Horseshoe Lake for years has been a favorite fishing resort. William, better known as "Old Bill" Mollenbrock is the owner of most of the lake land, and much of the surrounding property. Several times recently he has said he intended to drain the lake and convert its bed into farm land.

FERGUSON HOMES ROBBED

When Mayor John Kinealy of Ferguson, sleeping on his lawn, was awakened by the telephone bell at 5 a. m. Tuesday, to be told that burglars had visited the home of Harry Grover, across the street, he discovered that his own home had been entered too.

In the Grover home a safe was broken into and $21 in gold and jewelry worth between $500 and $600 was taken. From the Kinealy home was taken the Mayor's gold watch and $2. Both residences were ransacked.

Page Reviews Salvationists.

LONDON, June 9.—The American delegates to the World's Congress of the Salvation Army, with Miss Eva Booth at their head, marched this morning from the army headquarters in the City of London to the American Embassy in Victoria street, where they were reviewed by Ambassador Walter Hines Page. Ambassador Page afterward received Miss Eva Booth and the leading officers of the delegation.

High Winds Around St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—Serious wind and rainstorms visited sections of Minnesota, Western Wisconsin and North and South Dakota late yesterday, overturning barns and destroying small buildings. A tornado struck Trempealeau, Wis., demolishing several buildings and killing livestock.

There's not much pleasure in life for the woman who has to stay in a hot kitchen all day and is too tired out at night to enjoy anything. Sometimes washday will tire a woman so that she doesn't feel well all the week, and then, just as she is getting rested up, washday is around again. Besides, there is all the cleaning—floors to scrub, bathtubs and basins to clean, dishes to wash after every meal—it's no wonder women feel dragged out!

Fels-Naptha Soap gives women a chance to do their work in the easy way, to get it done before midday and to rest in the afternoon. Fels-Naptha Soap does your work in cool or lukewarm water.

Anty Drudge Saves Sallie From a Scolding

Sallie Tyred—"Oh, mamma, I am so sorry, I fell down in the grass and got a green stain on my dress. Please don't scold me. I'll try to be more careful after this."

Mrs. Tyred—"Never mind, my dear. Here's Anty Drudge, and she has just told me about Fels-Naptha Soap and how it takes out all stains. And is so easy to use, too."

Anty Drudge—"Yes, indeed, your mother is going to use Fels-Naptha Soap. After this you needn't ever be afraid to tell when you have a stain on your dress. It helps even little girls. You could wash that stain out yourself if you wanted to help mother."

Follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrapper.

FOUR IS DEATH TOLL OF SUNDAY DROWNINGS

Two More Lives Lost in Waters Near St Louis—Several Narrow Escapes.

Two more Sunday drownings were reported Monday, making a toll of four that day in waters near St. Louis. Adrian Abarian, 35 years old, an Austrian, was drowned in a pond in East Madison, Ill., known as "Dead Man's Hole," where he had gone with several other employes of the Commonwealth Steel Co., to bathe. The body has not been found. A number of persons have been drowned there.

Rudolph H. Wiebrich, 34 years old, a timekeeper for the East St. Louis Portland Cement Co., was drowned in the Missouri River at Fort Bellefontaine, in St. Louis County. With several other men he had mounted a log which drifted out into the current. The log suddenly turned over, throwing them in the water. Wiebrich sank, but the others managed to swim ashore. His body has not been found.

WORLD'S TIME MAY BE UNIFIED BY USE OF RADIO SIGNALS

United States Takes Lead in Movement by Ratifying Agreement.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The action of the Senate in ratifying the convention providing for the organization of an International Time Association created considerable interest in scientific circles here today. Belief was expressed that this step would give impetus to the movement to obtain unification of time throughout the world. Twenty-four other countries had subscribed to the convention and are expected to follow the lead of the United States in ratifying the instrument.

The object of the association is the unification of time by the use of wireless telegraphy or other signals, whether they be of extreme precision or ordinary signals.

In ratifying the convention the Senate made these reservations:

"First—That the United States may send time signals from such radio stations of its own as it may designate and at such times as it may decide upon.

"Second—That it may be free to use in sending radio time signals the method that it has used in the past, or such modification thereof as may seem to it desirable.

"Third—That it is to be understood that in agreeing to this convention the United States Government does not undertake to exercise any control over private radio stations, that may possibly be contemplated beyond what is permissible under existing laws."

The countries in addition to the United States which subscribed to the convention in Paris Oct. 25 last were: Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, Spain, France, Great Britain, Greece, Guatemala, Italy, Liberia, Monaco, Nicaragua, Netherlands, Portugal, Russia, Servia, Sweden, Switzerland and Uruguay.

TOBACCO HABIT

A very interesting book has been published on tobacco habit—how to conquer it quickly and easily. It tells the dangers of excessive smoking, chewing, snuff using, etc., and explains how nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, weak eyes, stomach troubles and numerous other disorders may be eliminated through stopping self-poisoning by tobacco. The man who has written this book wants to genuinely help all who have become addicted to tobacco habit and says there's no need to suffer that awful craving or restlessness which comes when one tries to quit voluntarily. This is no mind cure or temperance sermon tract, but plain common sense, clearly set forth. The author will send it free, postpaid, in plain wrapper. Write, giving name and full address—a post card will do. Address EDWARD J. WOODS, 753L, Station E, New York City. Keep this advertisement. It is likely to prove the best news ever.

To Clear Your Skin of Unsightly Fuzz

(Toilet Talks)

By having a small package of powdered delatone handy a woman can keep her skin free from hair or fuzz. To use, make a thick paste with some water and a little of the powder, then apply to hairy surface, and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, and with it comes every trace of hair. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. Buying the delatone in a small, original package insures strength and purity.—ADV.

277 ST. LOUISANS IN NEW WHO'S WHO, NET GAIN OF 38

Volume, However, Doesn't List Mayor Kiel, Though Kreismann Has Been Dropped.

About sixty St. Louisans have lately had the pleasure of seeing their names, for the first time, in "Who's Who in America."

The index of the 1914-1915 volume of this work, which was issued a few days ago, shows, under the classification of St. Louis, 67 names which were not under that classification in the 1912-1913 volume. A few of them werein the old book under other addresses, but most of them are now receiving recognition for the first time. "Who's Who" is defined on its title page, as "A Biographical Dictionary of Notable Living Men and Women of the United States."

The total number of St. Louis names in the new volume is 277, as compared with 239 in the previous volume. This shows a net increase of 38 in the city's representation. A number of those named in the former volume have been dropped because of death, removal from the city or retirement from the limelight.

Mayor's Name Not in List.

Some rather odd omissions appear in a close scrutiny of the new book. The name of Henry W. Kiel, Mayor of St Louis for more than a year, is not in the list, though the name of Frederick H. Kreismann, who was in the former volume as Mayor, has been dropped. The name of the late Adolphus Busch has been dropped, but the name of August A. Busch, who succeeded him in the control of the great Busch enterprises, does not appear. On the other hand, a 15-line biography of Alanson D. Brown makes no mention of his death, which occurred five months before that of Adolphus Busch. The name of Elias Michael, who died more recently, is one of the new names in this year's book.

The new names of St. Louisans in the "Who's Who" follow:

William E. Barns, editor St. Louis Lumberman.
Paul Blackwelder, assistant public librarian.
Henry W. Bond, lawyer.
James E. Brock, banker.
Edward A. Burt, botanist.
James A. Campbell, oculist.
Murray Carleton, merchant.
Fred G. Carpenter, painter.
Henry S. Caulfield, lawyer.
Winthrop H. Chenery, librarian Washington University.
The Rev. Father Eugene Coyle, pastor Old Cathedral.
The Rev. Carroll M. Davis, dean Christ Church Cathedral.
The Rev. George R. Dodson, Church of the Unity.
Alexander Douglas, auditor Frisco System.

George L. Edwards, banker.
James E. Gatewood, associate editor St. Louis Lumberman.
Jessie S. Gaynor, composer.
George Gellhorn, gynecologist.
William F. Gephart, professor Washington University.
Patrick F. Gill, (former) congressman.
Charles M. Hawkins, presiding elder M. E. Church South.
Fannie Hurst, writer.
William L. Igoe, congressman.
William B. Ittner, architect.
George S. Johns, editor.
Leonora M. Lake, public speaker.
Waldo A. Layman, manufacturer.
Benno E. Lischer, orthodontist.
Hanau W. Loeb, laryngologist.
Virgil Loeb, physician.
Edward E. Longan, lawyer.
Frank J. Lutz, surgeon.
Nelson W. McLeod, (lumberman and) banker.
Charles D. McClure, mining man.
Theodore F. Meyer, druggist.
Elias Michael, merchant (deceased.)
Jesse S. Myer, physician.
Thomas K. Niedringhaus, manufacturer.
Albert D. Nortoni, judge.
Daniel C. Nugent, merchant.
E. George Payne, sociologist.
Edward J. Pearson, vice-president Mo. Pacific.
Walter O. Pennell, electrical engineer.
Augustus G. Pohlman, anatomist.
Henry S. Priest, lawyer.
George D. Reynolds, judge.
John B. Robinson, professor Washington University.
Charles Rudolph, general passenger agent M. & O.
Charles S. Ruffner, Electrical engineer.
Charles E. Schaff, president M. K & T.
Wallace D. Simmons, president Simmons Hardware Co.
Charles W. Smith, bishop M. E. Church.
Holmes Smith, professor Washington University.
Mary E. Smith, deaconess M. E. Church South.
Frederick O. Sylvester, artist.
The Rev. Father J. J. Tannrath, chancellor archdiocese.
Sara Teasdale, author.
Edward Thomson, lecturer.
Curtis M. Townsend, president Mississippi River Commission.
Roland G. Usher, professor Washington University.
R. James Wallace, photo-physicist.
Frank O. Watts, banker.
Jane F. Winn, journalist.
John W. Woermann, engineer.
The Rev. Samuel H. Woodrow, pastor Pilgrim Congregational church.
Max Zach, conductor Symphony Society.

A page is given, in the new book, to stating the qualifications for admission to the book. The eligibles, it is stated, are in two classes. The first is arbitrarily fixed by official position, and includes members of Congress, Federal Judges, Governors and Judges of Supreme courts, officers of learned organizations and high church officials. The other class comprises persons "who have accomplished some worthy achievement—something out of the ordinary, so to speak—something which distinguishes them from the vast majority of their contemporaries." It is further explained that, while the standard is kept high, there has been "an unremitting effort to satisfy the reasonable expectation of those of all professions and vocations as to the names included." It is stated that, in some cases, the nonappearance of names is due to the failure of persons to sent biographical matter for which they were asked, as only first-hand material is accepted.

A number of the new St. Louis names, it will be noticed, are those of members of the Washington University faculty, some of whom have been brought here from other institutions, and others who have won recognition by their work here. David Franklin Houston, chancellor of the university, and Secretary of Agriculture, has been transferred from the St. Louis list to the Washington one. Not counting him, 29 members of the University faculty are named in the new "Who's Who."

Cleveland, which is said to aspire to rival this city in population, is not in St. Louis' class when it comes to the number of its distinguished inhabitants. Including John D. Rockefeller, it has only 179 names in the book, as compared with St. Louis' 277. The comparison with Boston is not quite so comforting, as 957 Bostonians managed to get themselves listed between the book's red covers.

$20 to $39.50 New Silk Dresses—Women's, Misses' and Juniors', $7.85

THE LEADING AND LARGEST New York Dress Specialists—or putting it in a broader, truer sense—America's foremost house in the reproduction and translation of Parisian styles (whose name, because of this dissolution we are not at liberty to mention), came to the parting of the ways where a dissolution of business partnership must be effected at once. They had on hand 500 Silk Dresses made up specially for their high-class Eastern midsummer trade. They had no time to peddle them out in lots of 200 and 300 at a time. They wanted to clear their shelves in a single transaction.

We, being their largest—in fact their only customer West of New York and Philadelphia, and our dress buyer being on the ground at the right time, were given first chance, securing the entire 500 Dresses at the lowest price ever paid for Dresses of such all-round high class and character. And we are going to sell them at a price that will stamp this as easily the biggest Dress event on record.

Choice $7.85

1000 Dresses, All New, Made to Sell for $16.50, $20.00, $25.00, $29.50 and $35.00

Choice $7.85

There are gowns suitable for all occasions, for bridge and dinner parties, afternoon and theater wear and just the kind that one should buy in half dozen lots.

The materials are crepe de chine, chiffon taffeta, crinkled crepe, crepe meteor, flowered summer silks and combinations of pompadour and solid colored silk and lacey bodices with soft, clinging silk skirt.

Pick Out Your Dress. Here are 10 of the Styles—There are 100 Others.

The trimmings are of the finest and best in exquisite point de vand lace, Madeira batiste, touches of embroidered gold cloth, two-tone laces, embroidered net tunics, soft, crushed girdles of velvet and silk.

There are a hundred or more styles (10 of which are pictured in cut), embracing all the season's accepted fashion ideas with many clever conceits that have not been shown before outside of Paris.

We wish we could convey to you the full measure of merit due these dresses. But see them—that's all we ask. They are the ideal Summer dress. Thin, shimmery silks, cooler than voile or lawn. Feather-weight crepes—shadow weave charmeuse and pussy willow silks, meteors, taffetas, etc., etc., and the style triumph—it must be seen to be appreciated.

The indefinable imprint of the Paris modistes is alluringly unfolded in these silks, laces and crepes. The exquisitely Frenchy-looking "bouffant" styles—the pouchy, puffy skirts, beruffled and tiered and tuniced. They are Paris styles, adapted, translated, improved, Americanized—embracing all the elements of refinement and good taste that American women so richly prize.

Woods Are Full of Poison Ivy

Get Your Blood Right Then You're Safe

All country people, and city folks before taking to the woods should fortify their blood with S. S. S.

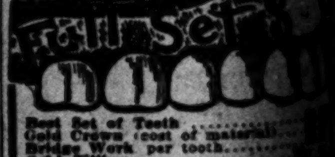

This famous blood purifier not only drives all poisons out of the system but puts the blood in a condition to resist the effects of poison ivy and other terrors that constantly beset us. You never can tell what a slight abrasion of the skin may lead to. A small scratch from barb wire or thorn will often open the way to serious trouble. Then there is the danger of impure water, of clogged bowels, of mineral poisons already in the system, of public towels and numerous other traps to set the blood on fire. Let S. S. S. purify your blood and if poisons have invaded the system begin a treatment at once and drive them out.

Get a bottle today of any druggist, but don't accept anything claimed to be "just as good."

Beware of substitution. Write to The Swift Specific Co., 107 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for an illustrated book "What the Mirror Tells." It fully explains many skin diseases and is finely illustrated.

TWO NOONDAY MEETINGS HELD TO BOOST CHARTER

Campaigners Hear Reports and Caulfield and Werner Address 'Change.

MAYOR IN FIRST SPEECH

Fifteenth Ward Republicans Indorse Code After Kiel Says It Means a New City.

NEW CHARTER MEETINGS

Tuesday.

8 p. m. Eleventh Ward Democratic Club, Oregon and Chippewa streets.

8 p. m. Twenty-second Ward Democratic Club, 2805 North Sarah street. Samuel Rosenfeld will speak.

8 p. m. Precinct organization of the Twentieth Ward Republican Club, 2947 Cass avenue. Mayor Kiel will speak.

8:15 p. m. Marquette Council, Knights of Columbus, West End Hall, Vandeventer and Finney avenues. Speech by Col. Fred Gardner, member of the Board of Freeholders.

Wednesday.

8 p. m. Twentieth Ward Democratic Club at Hibernian Hall, 3615 Finney avenue. Col. Fred Gardner is scheduled to speak for the new charter and Thomas J. Rowe Sr. against it.

Two important noonday meetings to boost the new city charter, were held Tuesday. The Citizens' New Charter Campaign Committee met at Lippe's at 12:30 p. m. to hear reports from the standing committees relative to the progress of the movement to pass the new charter at the special election, June 30.

About the time the Citizens' Committee had completed its work, the Merchants' Exchange held a meeting to hear speeches on the charter by former Judge Henry S. Caulfield, counsel for the Board of Freeholders, and Percy Werner.

Pageant Spirit Alive.

Charles A. Stix, chairman of the Finance Committee of the charter campaign, said there had been a prompt response by business men of the city to serve on the committee to raise the money for the charter campaign. He said the Pageant spirit seemed to be alive everywhere, and that people were more than willing to help in the fight for the adoption of a charter which will bring the city government into line with the cities which have adopted progressive charters.

The Charter Campaign Committee is making a special effort to get all voters to register June 16. All voters who have moved since they last registered will have to register again or they cannot vote for the new charter. A movement is under way to request business men to postpone their vacations until after the charter election so that they may contribute their part toward its passage.

By unanimous vote the Fifteenth Ward Republican Club, at Anchor Hall, Jefferson and Park avenues, Monday night indorsed the proposed new city charter, pledged its members to make a house-to-house canvass of every precinct of the ward and to do everything in its power to aid in the passage of the charter at the special election June 30.

This action followed a speech by Mayor Kiel and an explanation of the charter by Charles Rutledge, member of the Board of Freeholders. Mayor Kiel referred to the incompleted free bridge as an illustration of conditions that are brought about by the ineffectiveness of the old charter.

Affects Free Bridge Fight.

The two-house legislative system, the Mayor asserted, is cumbersome, and is directly responsible for the free bridge tangle. But for the free bridge fights between the Council and the House of Delegates the bridge would have been completed two years ago, he said.

The new charter will make a new St. Louis, the Mayor said. He criticised the opponents of the charter for seeking to find inconsequential flaws, and ignoring its big features that would prove of immense benefit to the city. If St. Louis exhibited the spirit shown in the Pageant and Masque, the Mayor said that nothing could prevent the adoption of the new charter.

The Citizens' Campaign Committee has adopted "June 30, Vote Yes," as the campaign slogan. Thousands of buttons bearing these words will be distributed throughout the city.

RABBI TRYING TO AID WOUNDED WOMAN SLAIN

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Rabbi Lewis Erschansky, 33, was shot and instantly killed last night by Thomas Burns when the former attempted to assist Mrs Fannie Eisenbaum, whom Burns had shot and probably fatally wounded. The shooting occurred in front of the Rabbi's residence near the center of the city.

When Rabbi Erschansky heard the shot that wounded Mrs. Eisenbaum he rushed out of his house to investigate and found the woman lying unconscious on the street. He was about to carry her to the sidewalk when he himself was shot by Burns, who was hiding behind a tree.

Burns later was captured but declined to give a reason for his act. He was infatuated with the wounded woman, the police say, and they believe she had spurned his attentions.

SISTERS PARTED 44 YEARS MEET AT UNION STATION

Couple Had Not Heard a Word From Each Other From Time One Left Home Here.

Mrs. Eva Heinz, 74 years old, of 2821 Blair avenue, met, at Union Station Monday afternoon for the first time in 44 years, her sister, Mrs. Caroline Dator, 68 years old, of Duluth, Minn., who had come to St. Louis for her first visit to Mrs. Heinz.

Tears streamed down the faces of the sister when they met. They had not exchanged a word with each other from the time of their separation until last week, when George Heinz, a son with whom his mother lives on Blair avenue, received a letter from his aunt, telling of the contemplated visit.

Mrs. George Heinz has resided in St. Louis since the arrival here of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Speck, in 1853, from Baden, Germany, where all the children were born.

Three of the children of Mrs. Heinz accompanied her to the train and were the first to recognize their aunt. They are Mrs. Henry Johnson, 2833 North Twentieth street and Mrs. Carrie Weidemeier, 1932 Wright street.

MISS MARGARET WILSON UNDERGOES OPERATION

Daughter of President Suffered Affection of Throat Which Interfered With Her Singing.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Miss Margaret Wilson, the only unmarried daughter of the President and Mrs. Wilson, underwent a minor operation of the throat yesterday. The affection had interfered seriously with her singing, and her talent for which has been the subject of high praise and had brought her to Philadelphia for treatment before.

Miss Wilson went almost immediately to the office of her physician, Dr. D. Braden Kyle. A reporter who called at Dr. Kyle's office just following the operation was shunted into an office waiting room, while the President's daughter was hastily escorted through a hall to a waiting limousine. She spent the afternoon and night visiting Philadelphia friends. A post-operative examination of the throat will be made today, after which Miss Wilson will return to the capital.

Fred Musick, 48, Takes Poison.

Fred Musick, 48 years old, a tailor of 202 Slattery street, was at the city hospital Tuesday in a serious condition following an attempt at 11:15 p. m. Monday, to commit suicide by swallowing bichloride of mercury tablets, while talking with a friend at Laflin and North Market streets. "Family troubles and too much drink," were assigned by Musick as the reason.

How to Have Red Lips!

The girl with red lips and pink cheeks may be thankful, for both denote health—vigorous, forceful, magnetic health, and while it may be impossible for some to attain owing to morbid states of health, yet a vast majority of seemingly healthy young women and men are almost colorless because of a lack of red blood corpuscles. When the blood is improved and enriched with these red corpuscles, the weight increases and a beautiful tint appears on the cheeks while the lips assume a healthy red color. Many physicians and home doctors prescribe three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets which are said to invariably increase the red blood corpuscles after a course of treatment lasting several months. The nervous system and general health also improve rapidly. The best physicians and apothecary shops supply tablet in sealed packages.—ADVERTISEMENT.

A. G. MOSELEY SR. SUED BY WIFE FOR $500 A MONTH

Separate Maintenance Action Reveals They Have Lived Apart Nearly 3 Years.

That Arthur Guy Moseley Sr., lawyer in the New Bank of Commerce Building, and his wife have been living apart for nearly three years, was revealed Tuesday, when Mrs. Moseley filed suit in the Circuit Court for separate maintenance, asking that he be required to pay her $500 a month from his income.

Mrs. Moseley, whose name in the petition is given as Lutie K. Moseley, says that they were married March 3, 1881, in Texas, and alleges that he deserted her in St. Louis in September, 1911.

The petition, filed by Attorney Jeptha J. Howe, alleges as a basis for action that, in February, 1912, Moseley and his wife entered into a contract in which he agreed to pay to her one-half of his net income at least once each six months, and that of this amount at least $350 was to be paid to her each month.

The petition alleges that Mrs. Moseley believes she should have received at least $500 a month under the contract and that she has not received even $350.

Victor Miller, attorney for Moseley, said that his client had a good defense to the action brought by Mrs. Moseley, and that an answer would be filed to the suit.

He Resided at the M. A. C.

Mrs. Moseley resides at 1230 Amherst place. Her husband has resided at various hotels since the separation from his wife. He lived at the Missouri Athletic Club until it was destroyed by fire. He was in Chicago the night of the fire.

Arthur G. Moseley Jr. married Miss Violet Bogy, daughter of an old St. Louis family, in July, 1912. She was in litigation for several months with her father, Bernard P. Bogy, whom she sued for an accounting of the estate of her mother.

ROPE ON VAN IS CUT AND FURNITURE IS SPILLED

Several Drivers Attacked as Result of Movers Strike; Two Men Arrested.

Moving men, involved in a strike, have been having considerable trouble in various parts of the city for several weeks. Several movers have been attacked and some furniture damaged. Monday four men assaulted Bert Miller of 3706 Easton avenue and Walter Matson of 1000 North Tenth street while they were loading a furniture van in front of 3709 North Twentieth street and unhitching the team, drove it several blocks from the wagon.

George McFarlan, 27 years old, of 1727 Carroll street, who said he was a driver, was arrested.

Clinton Jones, 24 years old, who said he was employed by the Fidelity Moving Co. at 1716 Gay street, was arrested on suspicion of having cut the rope on the tail gate of a moving wagon belonging to the J. H. Foster Storage Co. and causing a large quantity of furniture to fall into the street. The furniture was damaged to the extent of $50. He denied it.

About a week ago three movers employed by the Geitz Moving Co., Marcus and Easton avenue, were assaulted by a crowd of men in the alley behind the Geitz company's headquarters.

RABOTEAU WILL IS FILED FOR PROBATE

Widow of Pioneer St. Louis Druggist Is to Receive Bulk of Estate.

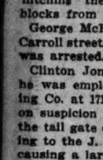

The will of Junius B. Raboteau, a druggist in St. Louis for 50 years, who died last week, at his home in Webster Groves, was filed for probate in Clayton Tuesday. With the exception of a small trust fund for two grandchildren and a bequest of $10 to another grandchild the entire estate is left to his widow. She will provides for the cremation of his body.

The trust fund is fixed at $26,000 and is to be kept by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carrie Raboteau, widow of his son, Claude, of Brooklyn, N. Y., for the benefit of her two children, Junius S. and Constance. When the youngest reaches the age of 25, it is to be divided equally. The income from the fund is to be devoted to their education.

The will provides for $10 to go to Nathan C. Raboteau, a grandson and the son of John Raboteau, who in addition will receive the drug store at Broadway and Lucas avenue, and a life insurance policy for $3050. The widow is made executrix without bond.

Dr. C. L. Smith Dies in West.

A message was received Monday by Mrs. E. Smith, Ferguson, St. Louis County, telling of the death of her father-in-law, Dr. C. L. Smith, 74 years old, at his home in San Francisco, Cal. He formerly was pastor of an M. E. Church, South, this city. His second wife, Mrs. Frieda Smith (nee Meisfielt) of Kirkwood, survives him.

Tenement Tots in Deadly Peril Due to Hot Wave With No Relief Now in Sight

Many Will Die Unless Ample Supply of Pure Milk to Strengthen Their Frail Bodies Is Provided—Help the Pure Milk Fund to Rescue These Little Ones of the Poor—Big Benefit Performance at Mikado Theater on Wednesday Night—Save the Babies!

CONTRIBUTIONS.

Previously acknowledged	$416 23
Mrs. M. Goldman	5 00
Harmony Council, No. 618, Knights and Ladies of Security	10 00
"Betty and Jimmy"	1 00

The 17 pure milk stations maintained by the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission in various crowded sections of the city now are open and running under full headway to meet the biggest and earliest demand for pure milk to save the tenement babies' lives that has ever been known in the 10 years of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk Fund's existence.

It is imperatively necessary that this demand shall be met.

No tenement mother must be turned away from any pure milk station empty-handed.

The pure modified milk distributed at these stations is all that stands between the babies and death.

These babies must not die.

They can be saved.

The pure milk that gives their frail little bodies sufficient strength to keep them alive in despite of the deadly heat can save them.

And nothing else will save them.

They must be saved.

The Pure Milk Fund appeals to every man, woman and child in St. Louis to help the good work of saving these baby lives.

Secretary Mortland of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission announces that pure milk will be given to every tenement mother who applies at any of the 17 pure milk stations now so suddenly transformed into actual life-saving stations for the little ones of the poor.

It is the task of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund to raise the money necessary to defray the cost of this splendid service and also to support the good work of the King's Daughters in distributing the free ice necessary to keep the milk cool and wholesome.

The Pure Milk Fund calls for help from every man, woman and child who loves and pities the imperiled tots of the tenements.

This help must be extended without delay.

The lives of many otherwise doomed tenement babies depend upon the promptness with which help is forthcoming.

Do not permit these little ones of the poor to die.

Save the babies!

The children of St. Louis, again qualifying for membership in that splendid army of the Pure Milk League, which, last summer, over 2000 strong, raised more than $4000, and whipped grim Death into full flight from the tenements, now are doing all in their power to help save the babies in the present ominous crisis.

On Wednesday evening, at the Mikado Theater, 5951 Easton avenue, the Walter Craig Minstrels, a company of young folks who, for three years past, have rendered noble service to the Pure Milk Fund, will give a big benefit performance to save the babies.

They are a talented lot of youngsters under the direction of Walter Craig, a 13-year-old stage manager, who never yet has failed to present a pleasing entertainment, and they will offer the following program:

been delighted with the quality of the entertainments presented.

The performance of tomorrow night promises to be the best ever given by young Walter Craig's all-star company. The house should be packed to the doors. The entire proceeds realized from the performance will go to the Pure Milk Fund to save the babies. It should be made a record-breaking event in the Fund's glorious history.

Help these youthful players to rescue the little ones of the poor.

They will do their share of the work splendidly.

Do yours as well by attending their performance and aiding them to score the biggest financial success possible to the Mikado Theater's capacity.

Save the babies!

JESSE JOPLIN PLACED UNDER HEAVY GUARD

DUQUOIN, Ill., June 9.—Jesse Joplin, under heavy guard, was brought to Duquoin today from the county jail at Pinckneyville to attend the inquest over Dr. D. Winton Dunn, whom he shot and killed in Dunn's office here Saturday night.

Because of fears of violence, precautions were taken to protect the prisoner.

Joplin still refused to tell the motive of the shooting. He said to reporters: "Any man in my place would have done as I did. I had a good reason for shooting Dunn, but I will never tell it."

REAL HAIR GROWER
Found at Last!

The Great English Discovery Crystolis "Grows Hair in 30 Days."

$1000.00 Reward If We Fail On Our Positive Guarantee. Try It At Our Risk—Mail Coupon Today.

This Man Is Growing Bald—"Crystolis" Is Just the Thing for Such Cases.

In Europe "Crystolis," the New English Hair Grower, has been called the most wonderful discovery of the century. The judges of the Brussels and Paris Expositions enthusiastically awarded gold medals to this marvelous hair-grower.

Already since we secured the American rights hundreds of men and women have written telling of the phenomenal results obtained by its use. People who have been bald for years tell how they now glory in beautiful hair. Many report new hair growth in 30 days or less. Others who have had dandruff all their lives say they have got a clean, healthy scalp after a few applications of this wonderful treatment.

We do not care whether you are bothered with falling hair, prematurely gray hair, matted hair, brittle hair or stringy hair; dandruff, itching scalp or any or all forms of hair trouble, we want you to try "CRYSTOLIS" at our risk.

We give you a binding guarantee without any "strings" or red tape, that it won't cost you a cent if we do not prove to you that "Crystolis" will do all we claim for it, and, what's important, we have plenty of money to back our guarantee. $1000 has been deposited in our local bank as a Special Fund, to be forfeited if we fail to comply with this contract. Cut out the coupon below and mail it today to Creslo Laboratories, 96 F street, Binghamton, N. Y.

Studebaker
ECONOMICAL LIGHT WEIGHT SIX
$1575

There is More car value in the Studebaker SIX than in any other "Six."

Because we manufacture a larger proportion of its parts than any other manufacturer produces for his car.

Every piece of steel used in it is made by a special Studebaker formula, and all parts are heat treated from two to four times during manufacture.

We actually create greater value in the Studebaker light-weight SIX'S parts than the makers of assembled "Sixes" can buy.

We can afford to embody highest quality in each of its parts because Studebaker builds 50,000 cars. Each car carries only one fifty-thousandth of the Studebaker overhead expense.

We are content with a smaller manufacturing profit per car, because our large production evens matters up.

Send for the Studebaker Proof Book, describing Studebaker manufacturing methods.

Special for This Week—This Massive and Beautiful

Bed-Davenport

Like Cut—a Parlor Davenport by Day—and Broad, Comfortable Bed by Night—
TERMS—$1 CASH—$1 A MONTH— $14.75

Here's an Example
Of the really extraordinary values this store continually presents—one of the best makers had a large number of these Bed Davenports on hand and was anxious to dispose of the entire lot—we took them all for our various stores—and they go on sale this week at a price that is surprising to say the least.

Exactly as Illustrated
The picture shows this Bed-Davenport exactly as it is—a massive and beautiful piece of furniture—frames of solid oak in golden finish—richly upholstered in imitation leather over rows of steel springs, and finely tufted.

Just What You Need
A Bed-Davenport like this is really needed in almost every home—it is a handsome parlor Davenport by day, and is instantly converted into a broad and comfortable bed if an extra bed should be needed, and has large compartment underneath to store the bed clothes.

See This Bed-Davenport
Note its size and beauty of finish, and compare it with anything shown elsewhere at $25.00 and up—you will then begin to appreciate what a truly remarkable value we are offering at this special price of only $14.75.

Sold on Credit
We could easily dispose of all these Bed-Davenports for cash at this low price—but we prefer to sell them on credit—we want to open up a great many new accounts—we want to interest more credit customers, in the hope that they will become steady patrons and will continue their account with us.

Note the Terms
In order that everyone may share in this value we offer these Bed-Davenports this week for only $1.00 cash and $1.00 a month—the easiest terms we have ever named for a high-class article of this kind. Remember, the davenport is delivered to your home immediately on payment of one dollar and the balance at the rate of a dollar a month.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A GIRL'S DESPAIRING CRY.

(If the writer of this letter will make her identity known to the editor of the Post-Dispatch, help may be found for her.—Editor, Post-Dispatch.)

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

You needn't publish this. I'm just writing it because I've got to get it out of my system somehow. It's 9 p. m. and I've nowhere to go, no money to buy something to read. I'm afraid of my own thoughts and I'm sick of scribbling blind prayers to God in Whose existence I can no longer muster hypocrisy to profess faith.

During the Pageant the response came readily, spontaneously to the slogan, "What's the matter with St. Louis?" "She's all right!" And I walked away wondering—just wondering. For how can it be all right? There are thousands out of work, thousands starving, thousands dying for want of proper care. Is that all right?

Fifty years ago one saw men pacing the streets; now it's women; no, girls. Why don't these folk who think St. Louis is all right go down to the Y. W. C. A. some morning about 10 o'clock and watch the girls come and go in the employment department? "Nothing yet, keep in touch with us." That's the end; a quarter gone, plus 10 cents carfare.

I know. I was laid off to reduce the office force of one of the department stores on May 19. I've been idle since. I am a thoroughly experienced office assistant—an expert bookkeeper. I registered with two employment agencies, $1 fee; three typewriter companies, furnishing excellent recommendations and good references, promising bond if necessary. Am still unemployed.

As to myself, I'm just a girl, 16 years; pleasing personally, good conversationalist (that counts some), an orphan, with no helping hand in evidence; also a little more than ordinarily pretty; but too frail and thin for posing or chorus work, and no talent for acting. I've no philanthropic men friends. I've some; every young, pretty girl has; they'll advance $20 payable in 60 days, and start trying to collect the equivalent on its acceptance. But I guess I'll come to that, too, yet.

This is Sunday and outside of room rent I've $1.25. Next Sunday rent'll be due again—cash on hand, $.00. There are two ways: My room (about 3500 west) is "luxurious" enough to supply gas. Next Friday, if I forget to apply a match after turning the gas on I won't wake up to face the landlady. Or, say "nowhere in particular," to some young fellow who says "Where are you going, little one?" That's all; there's no place for me. No one to go to, to ask for help; no job, nothing but a great hot city—and lots of people who unanimously agree that "St. Louis is all right." Good luck to them and to their dear ones; may their girls never come as near to death or ruin through carelessness or ignorance as I am tonight through starvation and poverty, and may God, if there is one, let my death or fall count as the redemption of another girl that she may reap the well being and joy He refused me!

If this is published I hope that a few will notice and do a little for the others who are left; and look beneath the prosperity of St. Louis to where "the little ones" are dying; into little bedrooms where girls lie sobbing—alone, waiting in rooms where no luck ever enters; streets where men wait for the young and pretty ones; not to support them after they're down, but to leave with a sneer and a carelessly thrown down coin. That's life, the life I've been living and now I'm going to try a little while, just a little, before I surrender.

It's late and I'm tired, the room's so hot—maybe I won't wait till next week. I'll just blow out the gas, but I'm afraid I've not the courage. God may grant it. I'll go mail this and then make up my mind. If I do, this is good-by; if not, it doesn't matter, for the world can't know the writer, anyhow, and—it can't do any harm, so I'll send it.

ONE FOR WHOM ST. LOUIS CAN FIND NO ROOM.

A Greasy Alarm.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The costliest butter, investigators say, has as many bacilli as the cheap grades. Two of 20 butter samples had tubercle bacilli. This is doubtless interesting to butter consumers. It is hoped that no bacilli will invade our peanut butter.

L. C. H.

MEDIATION'S LATEST CRISIS.

With the abandonment by Huerta of the threatened blockade of Tampico, the most acute crisis so far encountered by the mediators disappears, at least for the time being.

The proposed blockade violated about all the international law governing such naval movements. Enforced by the two little Mexican tinclads, it could hardly have been more than one of those "paper blockades" which civilized powers have persistently refused to recognize and the two vessels sailed to inaugurate it without that reasonable notice which is also essential to legality.

The very irregularity of the circumstances under which the ill-advised movement was proclaimed made it look like a device of Huerta statecraft for breaking up the conference at Niagara. The dictator must have known that broad principles of international usage as well as specific conditions in Tampico presented urgent reasons why our Government should ignore the blockade.

The recall of the gunboats to Puerto by Huerta does more than remove a cause of serious tension. His profession that the recall is due to "a sincere desire not to jeopardize the success of mediation" reveals an attitude on his part giving renewed hope that the effort at Niagara will be productive of fruitful results.

How the great idea represented in the meeting on the Canadian frontier is, by its own force alone, gradually overcoming obstacles, must make a decided impression on the public mind. Success is not yet in sight. The view, however, that it was an adaptation of highly impractical means to the end sought is rapidly giving way to a more serious estimate of possibilities. Progress to date justifies expectancy. Attainment of the object of the mediation will mean much to the administration. A more important consequence is that a triumph of idealism in the relations of a strong nation under provocation toward a weak one will be revealed to the world.

An inspiring precedent will be set in the object lesson that peace, even in such an intricate situation as that prevailing in Mexico, is not an unattainable, visionary ideal.

WORK FOR THE AUDUBON SOCIETY.

Enrico Caruso has just bought a new batch of love letters—his own, as usual—from a lady who took them seriously. We suppose the ladies will not cease taking Caruso's love missives seriously so long as he continues to be the world's most highly paid grand opera singer. Really, the law should establish a closed season of six or eight months yearly for these gloriously endowed but unworldly songbirds. Here is a duty which the Audubon Society has neglected.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL DISCIPLINE.

The testimony taken with regard to the beating of children at the Industrial School seems to show that these beatings have increased in number and severity during the past two or three months. Conditions appear to have grown worse, until the women in the neighborhood found them intolerable. It is said that the wooden walls of the school, built in quadrangular form, act as a sounding board, so that cries within are easily heard on the outside. And yet these cries have heretofore not been such as to horrify the neighbors.

Public opinion condemning corporal punishment in schools and public institutions is based on sound psychological science. It is the verdict of modern child study that whipping is worse than useless, and that other means should be taken to enforce discipline. It has been abandoned in army and navy, and is now only reserved for criminals and helpless children.

And its tendency is to brutalize those who resort to its constant use. That is what constitutes the chief peril in the case of such institutions as the Industrial School. It is an insidious peril, growing by what it feeds upon. It suggests the desirability of prohibiting corporal punishment in these institutions.

A LOGICAL DEDUCTION.

The German Foreign Office appears to have reasoned that, if the Washington Government permitted American manufacturers to sell war munitions to Huerta, it could hardly object to the delivery of the goods in German vessels.

BESIDES PRAYING.

While we sympathize with the many prayers for rain in Missouri which are being made in the drouth-stricken districts, we beg to suggest, as an auxiliary resource, that constant shallow cultivation of the corn fields, maintaining a dust mulch in the manner of dry-farming regions, will save some of the crop even if the prayers remain unanswered. Also, that upon the testimony of the three years last past, the time has come for Missouri farmers to consider whether provision for irrigation is not quite as essential a part of the equipment of their business as land, teams, tools and drainage.

Providence may feel that, in a state where abundant water to make crops can be drawn from shallow depths below ground almost anywhere, the occurrence of a period of scant rainfall ought to find mankind prepared to pump as well as to pray.

MISS BLOMFIELD'S BRITISH RIGHTS.

Nobody has lately done as well for suffrage as the young Englishwoman who knelt before King George to make a plea for the cause and was forcibly ejected from court and placed under arrest. She was quite within her rights as a British subject and the Crown exceeded its prerogatives in its harsh treatment of her. This is virtually admitted by the discharge of the young woman. No ground for action against her can be found.

But there is ample ground for action against the King if he will waive his prerogative and consent to be sued. He has either instigated or sanctioned an assault vi et armis against the young lady's person in her removal. And at his instance or sanction she was a victim of unlawful arrest. Unquestionably she has grounds for civil actions and at least nominal damages.

It is not often that the militant suffragists have the Government of England at a disadvantage before the Government's own laws. It is rare that lawful and peaceful methods yield such beneficial results as the Blomfield incident, which showed the Crown in a ridiculous light and gained world-wide sympathy for the victim. Still more can be made of the incident if the suffragists will cleverly press their lawful advantage. A lawful petition to the King asking his gracious consent to be sued by a wronged subject would be in order. If he disavows responsibility for the unlawful treatment of Miss Blomfield, then examples might well be made of the flunkies who perpetrated it.

Remembering that the possibilities of the uncompleted free bridge as a recreation pier have often been pointed out, can J. M. Storm's suggestion for equipping it with lodgings in furtherance of the fresh air movement be pronounced fanciful and impractical?

STORY OF THE CHARTER.

No. 1. Why Is a Charter?

ST. LOUIS is to vote on the adoption of a charter June 30. If adopted this charter will take the place of one which has been in force since August, 1876—38 years ago.

The United States and the State of Missouri have Constitutions which tell the President or Governor and other officers, the Congress or Legislature and the courts what they may do. A charter is the Constitution of a city. In it—as in a Constitution—the people tell the Mayor, the Municipal Assembly and the courts what they may do.

A President or a Governor, a Congress or a Legislature has no power until the people give it to them. And they have only so much power as the people have said in the Constitution they may have.

Just so a charter limits the power of the Mayor and Municipal Assembly, which can do nothing more than the charter the people have voted says they can.

When our present charter was adopted 38 years ago, the city limits were extended from about Vandeventer avenue to the present line.

There were few street cars then, and those were drawn by horses or mules.

There were no telephones.

There were no electric lights.

There were few paved streets and no public sprinkling.

River traffic was bigger than railroad traffic, and, so, the big business section was east of Fourth street. All the important banks were below Third street.

Gas was so high that only the wealthy used it.

There was only the beginning of a park system, and part of that was in the hands of private persons or companies.

The charter of 1876 was made for that sort of a city. It was made for town conditions, and not for a city, you might say. The people thought it a pretty good charter 38 years ago, but it is not a good charter today, because we have outgrown it.

Under the present charter, which was made for a town, the city of St. Louis is today very poorly governed.

It cannot own and operate street railways, electric light plants, public telephones or any other utility that the people might want the city to operate.

Its business is carried on by a Mayor, a Council, a House of Delegates and a Board of Public Improvements. Each one of these can shift the blame for not doing something that is good for the city—or for doing something that is bad for the city—on the others. The Mayor can blame the House, the House can blame the Council, the Council can blame the Board of Public Improvements, and so on.

Isn't it wise to change the charter and make it fit the needs of a big city?

Thursday we will tell how a new charter is made for and by the people of St. Louis.

SHORT BALLOT OBJECT LESSON.

The biennial object lesson on the need for the short ballot, not only in the city but in the county and State, seems even more striking than usual this year. The primary election candidates on four tickets number 369. On a hot day next August the conscientious voter must discharge the duty of indicating those whom he regards best qualified for a great variety of important local and national trusts.

Increase in the practical facilities at the disposal of the citizens of large communities for determining the fitness of candidates will not solve the problem. It is to be solved only by decrease in the number of elective officers the voter is called upon to select.

Sherman Whipple's proposed $125,000,000 suit against members of the New Haven directorate between 1902 and 1913 to recover from them individually losses sustained by Boston & Maine stockholders through illegal and reckless managerial acts is obviously based on the same sound principle as the St. Louis suit against Frisco directors. Both will put a sad crimp in the dummy director as an institution.

EDISON'S BUMBLE BEE AEROPLANE.

In suggesting that the bumble bee is the best model for the successful aeroplane, Edison follows the lead of H. G. Wells, who, in his romance, "War in the Air," published in 1908, pictures an inventor flying from one end of England to the other on a machine that had actual wings, whirring at such a pace as to be almost invisible, and carrying it through the sky like a gigantic bumble bee.

Mr. Edison says that, in order to achieve this phenomenal flying, which the insect practices by instinct, we shall have to use wings moving at the rate of at least 200 beats a second. That looks impossible, until we recall that human ingenuity has outdone nature in speed of mechanical movements. The Tesla oscillator, for example, reverses itself 100 to more than 200 times a second. And in the ordinary dynamo, the current is reversed as often as 1000 times a second.

In these cases, of course, electricity is the force used. It is hardly conceivable that any such speed of motion can be obtained with gasoline engines, no matter how many cylinders may be used.

What inventor will give us the electrical bumble-bee type of flying machine?

"HOT? I SHOULD SAY SO."

THE CHARTER FORUM.

Shall you vote for the new charter, or against it? Or haven't you decided? Get a copy and read it, or read Col. Gardner's every-other-day analysis of it in the Post-Dispatch, and write us your opinion of it, favorable or otherwise. Post-Dispatch readers are the most powerful group of voters in St. Louis. They can adopt the new charter or defeat it. We feel sure a large majority of them favor it. But we want to hear from both sides. Make your letters brief—not more than 100 words.

Some Ground Is Gained.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Section 7, article 18, new charter, says: "The appointing officer may suspend or discharge any officer or employe under him with or without cause." Doesn't that devitalize and emasculate the entire efficiency provision? I am a city employe now. Have been such for 12 years. I know by my own experience that no one holds his city job during succeeding administrations, however efficient, capable and faithful he may be, unless he carries a "drag" or "pull" in his hip pocket. If the new charter aims to reward merit by giving a faithful employe an assurance of tenure of his job, how in Sam Hill is this going to be brought about when a newly elected officer may discharge me without cause and without notice ad libitum? A little light on this, Mr. Editor.

COMPTROLLER'S CLERK.

(Section 7 says: "The appointing officer may suspend or discharge or reduce in rank or compensation any officer or employe under him, with or without cause, except as in this charter is otherwise provided." Section 9 says: "All persons in the city service holding positions in the classified service, as established by this article, at the time this charter takes effect, shall be entitled to retain their position until discharged, reduced, promoted or transferred in accordance with the provisions of this charter." Section 12 says: "No person in the classified service or seeking admission thereto shall be appointed, reduced, suspended, discharged or in any way favored or discriminated against because of his political or religious opinions or affiliations." Holdover city employes have no such protection in the existing charter. Under the new, they will retain their jobs if they do the work well; if not, they will be replaced by new men, but these new men must be picked from eligible lists certified by the Efficiency Board after holding examinations. And the old employes cannot be discharged, as now, simply because the party to which they belong loses control at city hall. This is a big gain for the merit system).

Anti-Charter Comes Back.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your caustic remarks about seeing through green glasses are to the point. Your boasted charter is so full of blowholes that you need green glasses to find a redeeming feature in it. You state I am a pessimist. Far from it. I want our city to advance, which she is doing every day, and you nor I nor any other crowd cannot stop it. But you tie the city up in lawsuits if you advocate a charter of this kind. You state this charter will be all right when the constitution permits, or, in other words, when the Legislature grants our request. I see all those country members granting us anything—not. It will be like your boasted home rule, string-tied. It is you that wears green glasses.

ANTI-CHARTER.

(The new charter empowers the city to own and operate all profit-earning public utilities, now monopolized, under the old charter, by private companies which run them not for service but for profit. It makes the initiative and referendum handier to use, and adds the recall. It makes a good beginning on a merit system. It makes the Mayor a general manager with real authority, and not a mere figurehead, as now. It abolishes the upper chamber "house of lords" and substitutes one governing board, more easily controlled by the people, for two. These are among many betterments over the old charter, which nobody needs green glasses to see. It is not a perfect charter, of course; but its faults can be corrected by initiative amendments, under its own provisions, when the people get ready to do it. Charter clauses providing additional powers for the city when the State permits, merely declare the policy of the city. None of the big gains cited above need wait on State action. Under the new charter, the city with enlarged powers over utility companies can get better terms for the people with fewer long, costly lawsuits).

Repeal of Initiated Ordinances.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Article 5, section 6, of the proposed charter says two-thirds of all the Board of Aldermen can amend or repeal an ordinance adopted by the people at the polls.

Those that believe in the rule of the people say the initiative was designed to increase the people's power in government. By it the people should have direct and complete action in their affairs. Anything short of the freest action is a denial of the principle of the initiative. To give to a minority the power to amend or repeal an act adopted by the initiative, though it be two-thirds of the Board of Aldermen, is a denial of the principle of the initiative.

Our present charter has the initiative with no power higher than the people and it is not likely the people will vote for a new charter that will give the Board of Aldermen, their creatures, the power to change their acts.

Count Tolstoy said: "The rich will do everything for the poor but get off their backs." So our charter builders will give the people everything but the right to govern. Respectfully,

E. H. BOECK.

5957 North Market street.

(Section 6, article 5, says: "No ordinance adopted at the polls under the initiative shall be amended or repealed by the Board of Aldermen except by vote of two-thirds of all the members, nor within one year after its adoption." The people may find, after a year's trial, they erred in adopting an ordinance. This provision enables them to have it repealed by the Board of Aldermen, on sufficient public demand therefor, without going to the heavy expense of another initiative election to do it. With the recall hanging over their heads, in the new charter, no Board of Aldermen will ever repeal an initiated ordinance unless convinced a majority of the voters want it repealed).

Wheat and Corn Crops.

From the Topeka State Journal.

If there is anything in the maxim popular with the old-fashioned farmers that a good wheat year means a poor corn year, the corn crop for 1914 won't amount to much in comparison with some that have preceded it. But maybe this is a rule that will be noted for its exception this year. Here's hoping, anyhow.

JUST A MINUTE.

By Clark McAdams.

THE NEW WEST.

One day we were drinking in Harrigan's place—the Swastika crowd and the rest.
You could tell by the look upon everyone's face that the outlook was none o' the best.
The free range was gone an' the West was no more. The boys was all talkin' o' that,
When a nice little feller stepped in through the door, an' described a salute with his hat.

"Amigos!" he said, with a bright, cheery laugh. "All han's up to Harrigan's bar!
All han's have a drink on the great vitygraph, an' a drink to the town's lucky star!
The free range is gone, but we've work for you all—the rider, the roper, the boss,
Yer young men an' ol' men, fer short men an' tall, an' whoever kin straddle a hoss!"

Now, Harrigan's place is the devil's own lair, an' the roof has been frequently loosed;
But the shout that went up from the cattlemen there was the biggest it ever produced.
"You've work fer us all?" cried the punchers en mass, enchanted with visions o' wealth,
An' each one upliftin' the booze in his glass, "Then here's to the vitygraph's health!"

"You all knew Bill Hickok," the little man said, "an' how, with a knife and a gun,
He fought with twelve men, an' left eight o' them dead? We'll do Bill tomorrow at one.
The big feller (pointin' out Red) will be Bill. We'll get all the scenery right,
An' then, after two or three trials fer drill, we'll put on the terrible fight!"

So one day it's rustlers, an' one day it's Utes—we turn out a fillum a day.
The work is excitin', the salary suits, an' the West is revived, anyway.
If someone says "cows" down at Harrigan's place, the boys at the bar always laugh,
An' somebody, liftin' his desert-tanned face, says "Hooray for the great vitygraph!"

THE BROWNS.

The Browns are a good deal like some of our better-known comets. They come and go. Their periodicity is about 10 years, and during those intervals they are merely known to exist for having a habit of coming and going. The Federal League people in St. Louis made the mistake of not studying the calendar for the purpose of determining if the Browns would be at perihelion with popular favor this year, so to speak. The Browns are faithful in this respect, and they can be anticipated as easily as a clock star if one will only figure a bit. The most important consideration for anyone thinking of putting his money in the Federal League team was the exact lapse of time since McAleer threatened to win a pennant with the Browns. Apparently no one did that, and like Halley's comet, the Browns are back with us in their periodical brilliance. There is such a thing as inside baseball management, too. This seems to have been overlooked.

First Pageanter: How long were our soldiers away to the Mexican War?

Second Pageanter: I don't know; but judging by Senator Benton's address of welcome when they returned, the separation must have been long and painful.

ANSWERS TO QUE[RIES]

DATES.

IMP.—Aug. 7, 1877, Tuesday.

ALTON.—At his first trial, Lieutenant of Police Becker was sentenced to die in the week [illegible] Dec. 9, 1912.

M. T.—The old fair was held from 1856 to 1903, excepting 1861 [illegible] Some reader may tell you when the bear pit was removed.

CONSTANT.—In 1526, Lucas Vasquez, searching for the "Northwest Passage," sailed up the James River, and not finding the passage, he began building a town called San Miguel, about where the English founded Jamestown 81 years afterward. Negro slaves were employed by the Spaniards in this work, and this would seem to be the first instance of slave labor on the part of negroes within the territory now covered by the United States. The authority for this is John Fiske's "Discovery of America," vol. II, page [illegible].

ETIQUETTE.

B. B.—It is well in most cases to remove the hat in any office to which one goes on business. It is good manners, and it is good for the hair.

G. O.—A writer on etiquette says a sister of the prospective bride may always give a shower, whether she be married or a single woman, and friends of both bride and bridegroom may be invited. It is considered better taste to invite only those from whom gifts of any sort would be entirely welcome, as a bride should not want to have "mere acquaintances" present gifts.

HEALTH HINTS.

C. S.—Where there are adenoids or tonsils that cause mouth breathing, physicians usually advise operation. Your physician may know best in the case of your child. If there is no stoppage, the child should be taught to breathe through the nose, keeping mouth closed.

B. M.—If tired, lazy, sleepy and can't keep your eyes open, take [illegible] baths a week and sponge every morning. Bed must not be [illegible]. Sleep with the window open [illegible]. Keep the bowels right, get full [illegible] or nine hours' sleep. When [illegible] afterwards shake off the [illegible], never give way to it. Go to [illegible] ing in open air. The Horror in the Box Car

Setting Forth the Experience of a Looked-In Hobo and an Imaginary Tarantula.

A Story Showing How Reason May Distort Itself Under the Spell of Fright.

By J. E. Hungerford.

BANANAS! Bananas everywhere! Dozens of 'em! Hundreds of 'em! I leaned against the wall of the car and sighed contentedly. I pinched myself to see if it was me—me in a car of bananas. It was, and there were the bananas, sack upon sack of them, piled three-fourths of the way to the ceiling.

It was kind of close quarters for solid comfort, but as long as I could eat—eat bountifully, luxuriously, unstintedly, I sure didn't have any kick coming. Then I thought of the seal clerk with the spectacles, and I laughed as I reflected how I'd crawled under the car from the off side, with him not ten feet away. Well, I had beat him to it. I was sealed in, and hoboing had its soft spots after all.

Everything was so comfortable that I began to cast around for objections. I found one. It was cold in that car, darned cold, and I proceeded to turn up my coat collar and snuggle coxily between two sacks. I must have lain there at least three minutes before it occurred to me that I was hungry.

Think of it, three whole minutes in a car of bananas, and not realize you're hungry! Well, anyhow, I got my knife to work and ripped open a sack in a jiffy. I was a pirate all right. Who wouldn't have been a pirate?

It was hours later, and I'd transferred my attention to another bunch. No, I hadn't finished the first sack—it was mostly green, but I'd made a pretty good sized aperture in the second when my knife slipped from my fingers.

I fished around in my pockets and dug up a match. It was the last match I had. I lit it with some reluctance and held it far down, but the knife had clean vanished.

As I was transferring the burnt end to my left hand to prolong its life I happened to glance at the rent I had made in the gunny sack, and, as I did so, I sat bolt upright, nearly butting a hole through the roof. There—not two feet from my face—was a big, hideous, hairy creature, about the size of a silver dollar.

For a second I sat staring at it, transfixed. The match seared my fingers, flickered and went out, and then suddenly I came to my senses and began to crawl. I fled, terror-stricken, to the doors and threw my weight against them. I beat and pounded them frantically. I bumped and tore around over those sacks like a man bereft of reason, and then, as the full realization of my position forced itself upon me, I screamed at the top of my voice.

I thought of all the stories I had heard and read of tarantulas, and as they stood out vividly, every miserable, soul-racking detail of them, I was wild with horror. I didn't have a chance against that thing there in the dark. It might even now be making its way stealthily toward me.

I pulled myself together and rolled over into a corner, weak and shivering. Then the thought that there might be others—others right where I was lying, brought me to my knees again with a groan of despair. There must be others! There were others! A cold sweat stood out on my body, and I knelt there bereft of every atom of manhood, quaking and cowering in the dark.

Though the vortex of my emotions there came suddenly a new impression—the sensation as of something crawling. It was nothing definite, but it was intensely real. Something was crawling! Crawling slowly and methodically up my left leg! No, it was my right leg! Again it was my left leg! I started to reach for it, then stopped, my arm poised rigidly. If I did reach—if I touched it, it would sting—sting quicker!

I sat there in an agony of suspense, waiting for it to strike. Waiting—waiting—waiting, for an eternity, but it didn't strike! I had even ceased crawling.

I chuckled softly, then I laughed. I was going insane. I reached down suddenly and clapped my hand over the spot where the crawling had ceased, but there was nothing. I ran my hand over my entire body, still there was nothing.

I felt sick and faint, and leaned wearily against the car wall. As I did so my face touched something cold—cold and clammy and soft. I started back, screaming, then I laughed again—I was insane—I had leaned against my own hand.

To assure myself of this, for I was sure of nothing, I ran my palm slowly along the splintered surface of the wall, and then, with a howl of terror, I rolled over on the sacks.

I had touched something hairy—something soft—something— I sat up with an impelling desire to reach out again. I could stand the torture no longer. I wanted to know where I stood. I wanted a fighting chance.

I had suddenly lost all sense of fear. My nerves were strung to the snapping point. I groped my hand along the wall, up and down and sideways. There was nothing—nothing!

It was another prank of the imagination—it was— My fingers tightened! My blood seemed to congeal! I felt it! I had hold of it! It gave easily under my fingers! Why didn't it sting? Why didn't it even hiss? I couldn't let go—I was riveted to the spot—

I must have fainted and rolled over against the doors. I remember vaguely my head striking something, then I knew no more.

How long I lay there I don't know. When I regained consciousness I was stretched out on a pile of sawdust in the shadow of an icehouse, and a man was bending over me with a bucket. There was a circle of curious faces leaning close about me.

The seal clerk had found me when he opened the car for inspection and ventilation. I told him my story, and even climbed back in the car and pointed out the sack where had lurked the venomous horror.

While they were prodding about with sticks and clubs my eyes swept the walls. Then I started for the door.

"There it is!" I yelled hoarsely. "Over there! See?" Somebody swung a lantern around so that the light fell directly on the spot.

"Huh!" shouted a voice. "The bo's dippy."

I looked closer, then swore. For there in the exact spot where I had run my hand—where I had suffered momentarily the tortures of hades, was a good-sized bunch of sack ravelings, held securely by the splintered surface of the wood.

I didn't wait for any more. I climbed out of that refrigerator and made a quick getaway, for there had come to me the sudden realization of what might happen if they failed to locate the tarantula and found the slashed banana sack instead.

But it was there—heaven knows it was in there, and here's hoping they found it.

"To Love and Keep on Loving Is the Only Way of Making Marriage Do Its Work in the World"

"Overhaul the Marriage Mode Shop and Put It on an Efficiency Basis," Urges Mrs. Mary Austin, Author of the New Book, "Love and the Soul Maker"—Among Other Things She Declares: "Nature Would Be Wasteful to Make Only One Man for Each Woman and Vice Versa—For Each Human Being There Is a Group of Potential Mates."

Put marriage on an efficiency basis!

Make it a relation of real and definite value, both to the individuals that venture it and to society that applauds the venture. Free it from the entangling superstitions, the antique fashions, the unfair demands that are straining it to the breaking point and past. Force it to serve the welfare of all normal men and women, not of a pampered few nor yet of a bloodless, unhuman ideal. Make it work!

THAT is the vigorous gospel set forth in Mrs. Mary Austin's newest book, "Love and the Soul Maker," just published. It is a searching and challenging analysis of the emotional relations between the modern man and the modern woman, a complete overhauling of the shop where all our marriage modes are kept. And it has a constructive element which books of this sort frequently do not possess. In fact, Mrs. Austin might be described as a matrimonial pragmatist.

"Some one was needed to look on marriage from the viewpoint of the many," she says. "The trouble with Ellen Key, Bernard Shaw and other individualists is that they are always thinking in terms of a small class.

"It's all very well to say that a man should not be compelled to live with a woman he no longer loves. But go into the courts and hear a woman whose body is bent and broken with overwork plead that her husband has deserted her and their six children for a pretty, young girl. And remember that his wages are enough for one family, but not enough for two. You can't tell him that he is free to leave his wife, since he no longer loves her!"

Yet compelling him to return home against his will—the obvious makeshift—doesn't bring his marriage up to the level of Mrs. Austin's ideal. She states that ideal rather admirably even though all will not agree with all her plans for attaining it.

"To love and to keep on loving. This is the one way of making marriage do its work in the world. The only terms we have a right to make with marriage are that it shall stop short of unfitting us for the imperative obligations of loving and serving.

To realize this ideal boys and girls should be educated for loving. Each young person should be taught that the right mate is the other hand, the other eye of oneself."

This might mean that each person is made and designed for one other person.

But Mrs. Austin dissents.

"Nature wouldn't be so wasteful as to make only one man for each woman, and vice versa," she declares.

"For each human being there is a group of potential mates. The young person should learn to recognize the group characteristics. Yet this quality of other-selfness isn't enough to guarantee a right marriage.

"Only persons with the same ratio of development should marry. Thus we shall have an end to one of the commonest instances of unhappiness in the modern marriage—the case of the man or woman united to a partner who can't keep up. The index of the personal efficiency of every individual should be determined and placed on record in youth. Then the man who stops growing at 30 won't be married to the woman who expands several years longer, nor will the great man be bound to a wife whom other people wish he'd leave at home.

"In America the chief reason for the increase in divorce is the increase in the artificial conditions surrounding marriage. Our social contacts are much more narrow than they were in the pioneer days or in the later homely democracy.

"To insure freedom of selection our educational leaders should seriously work for the establishment of courtship centers, social gathering places where the young may freely associate. The average home is one of the worst possible places for young people to court in. The average home, with its one living room, its weary and self-absorbed adults, its clamorous younger children, is the least propitious environment for the mating pair.

"But even then all is not settled and happiness guaranteed. Despite cautious choosing, discord will, at times crop out.

"To help people with their marital troubles there should be a board of advisers. Though technically a court of judgment, the Domestic Relations Courts in some of the cities of the United States offer much help of this nature. It should be available to unhappy married folks everywhere.

"Marriages fail," Mrs. Austin sums up, "not because they fall short of any purpose of nature, but because either party fails to conform to the predetermined pattern. What we have to realize, if we would make the married relation a success, is that its essentials are at all times superior to the fashions by which it is expressed."

Betty Vincent's Advice to Lovers

DON'T be so busy, so modern, that you forget to be courteous.

Courtesy is the lubricating oil which helps the wheels of life to revolve smoothly. Just as much as her grandmother, the modern woman likes to have a man open the door for her or pick up her handkerchief. Just as much as his grandfather, the man who extends these courtesies likes to be thanked by a smile and a gracious word or two.

I have said that men and women brought together in a business relation should steer clear of flirtation and sentimentality. But there is no good reason why they should fail to be polite to each other.

Faint-Hearted Men.

A. A. C. writes: "I dearly love a girl and she has told me once that she loves me and has accepted a present from me with our initials engraved in it. Do you think she loves me enough to marry me?"

If you have had sufficient courage to ask your sweetheart if she loves you, you should be brave enough to ask her if she will marry you. Who knows but what that is just what she is waiting for you to do? Ask her and find out. It is the only way I can suggest.

J. T. M. writes: "I have been married since Christmas. My wife and I lived together two months and then left me. She wishes to return to me but I find from what I hear that it will be hard for me to forgive her. What shall I do?"

Yours is a tangled case, as you have minutely described it. To err is but human, you will remember. To forgive, divine. Had you deserted your wife and returned, later, would she have forgiven you? Guide yourself in what you do with this thought in mind. There is nothing that a woman may do that is any guiltier than is perhaps the man had done it.

Don't Let a Cold Settle on Your Lungs

If you have a persistent cough or cold, take warning before it is too late. Eckman's Alterative has restored to health many persons who had serious lung troubles. Read of this case:—

Pleasantville, N. J.

"Gentlemen:—During the winter of 1911 I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. Eckman's Alterative was recommended to me and I commenced using it as a last resort. The first bottle seemed to give no relief, in fact, I seemed to feel worse, but I kept on using the medicine and found out the first bottle had really started me on the road to recovery by loosening the mucus and making me expectorate freely. After using the medicine for some time my cough ceased, I gained flesh and today I am a well man."

(Signed) (Abbreviated) M. BATES.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by Rabotteau Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Judge & Dolph Drug Co., and leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries.

Sandman Story of Tim and Ted, the Black Kittens, and the Trick They Tried to Play on the Birds

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

TIM and Ted were black kittens, and they were fast growing to be big kittens, too.

They were so near alike that you could only tell them apart when you looked at their feet. Ted had one white paw, while Tim was all black—not a bit of white on his little body.

Now Tim and Ted were growing to be very bad kittens, and sometimes they caught a bird and ate it.

"I think we could catch more birds," said Tim, "if there were not two of us; one of us is always sure to be seen.

"Now, I have a scheme that I am sure will help us. We must not be seen together, and then the birds will think there is only one cat.

"You go to sleep on the top of the fence, where you can be plainly seen, and I will hide behind a bush, and when the birds see you asleep they will fly down to the ground and I can catch them."

Ted agreed to this if Tim would promise to sleep as long as he did.

Tim promised he would, and the next morning Ted took his place on top of the fence and went to sleep.

Pretty soon the birds saw Ted, and after looking about for Tim and not finding him they flew down to the ground. Out darted Tim and caught one of the poor little birds and carried it into the bushes.

Away flew the others into a tree, where they could see Ted on the fence. Then they know what had happened.

"We will pay him off tomorrow," said one bird. "He will sleep on the fence and his brother will watch to catch us, and I think that will be the last time they will try that trick."

Tim waited until he was tired, and being satisfied that the birds would not fly down again that day, he awakened Ted.

The next morning Tim took his place on the fence and Ted hid behind the bush, but not a bird came down. He could see them in the tree, but they did not seem hungry that morning, although there were crumbs on the ground.

After a while the birds flew out of the tree and circled around right over where Tim was sleeping on the fence, and then suddenly they all descended upon the sleeping Tim.

They picked at his back and his head being careful not to get near his mouth, and when the surprised Tim opened his eyes they tried to pick them out. Tim closed his eyes and tried to get down from the fence, but he could not see his way, so he meowed as loudly as he could for help.

Ted ran out from his hiding place, and when he saw the birds around Tim he thought Tim had played a trick on him.

"I went to sleep for you and let you catch them," he said, "and now you don't give me a chance at all."

"Help! Help!" meowed poor Tim; "can't you see they are trying to kill me," he called to Ted.

"Why don't you catch them," called Ted, thinking Tim must be crazy to let the birds fly around him and not get one.

Ted ran up the fence, and when the birds saw him they flew at him just as he reached the top of the fence and was holding on with his front paws.

Ted closed his eyes and dropped to the ground meowing as he ran for shelter. When the birds flew at Ted, Tim opened his eyes, and finding he was free, he jumped and ran.

Both kittens sat under the steps trembling and looking as frightened as kittens can.

"I thought birds were afraid of kittens," said Tim after a while.

"I did, too," said Ted; "but I guess they are only afraid of big cats. I think the sparrows were the ones that picked the hardest, and I am going to eat a lot and go to bed early, so I can grow big quick, and then I will show these sparrows they cannot play tricks on me."

"I am going to eat and go to bed early, too," said Tim. "Maybe if we go to sleep now we'll wake up big.

"All right," said Ted, settling down for a nap. "Let's try it."

A Message to Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and haul them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Judge & Dolph, Weipert Drug Co., Rabotteau, Wolff-Wilson Co., Johnson Bros., and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervousness, dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder. —ADV.

Soft, Fluffy Hair Aids Beauty and Personality

Girls and women of all ages want to be charming, beautiful and attractive—it's their birthright—but stringy, thin and lifeless hair destroys half the beauty of a pretty face.

If your hair is not beautiful, is falling out, streaky, full of dandruff, too dry, or if the scalp itches and burns, use Parisian Sage. Rub it well into the scalp. It will go right to the hair roots, nourish them, and stimulate the hair to grow strong and luxuriant. Parisian Sage removes dandruff with one application and cleanses the hair of dirt, dust and excessive oil. It will cool and invigorate the scalp and make the hair doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a scientifically made preparation that gives the hair just what is needed to make it soft, fluffy, thick and gloriously radiant. It is delicately perfumed; is inexpensive, and can be had at all drug and toilet counters or from Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.—ADV.

TO KEEP THE GAS STOVE CLEAN

THE gas stove, unless properly managed and cared for, is often a source of annoyance to the inexperienced housekeeper.

Grease seems to cling to the pipes and the exposed parts of the stove and to certain parts where newspaper and cloth cannot reach. Even careful washing and cleaning every day are not always an assurance that the stove is always clean.

When one has a greasy stove that is hard to manage and keep clean, it is worth while to try the following method of which a Swedish girl invented:

Take all the parts of the gas stove, including the iron tops, the burners and pipes apart. They will lift out easily. Place them in a stationary sink, tub or wash boiler and cover with very hot water. Dissolve half a can of lye in the water and let stand an hour or so, if possible over night.

Great care should be taken that the hands do not come in contact with the lye water. The head should be kept turned away from the vessel when the lye is poured into the water, as a strong gas is formed that is very disagreeable to breathe.

If this is tried once a month the gas range will always be perfectly free from grease of any kind if cleaned in the usual way once a week.

A stationary tub or sink are preferable for this work, as the plug can be easily pulled without danger of burning the hands with lye water and the parts of the stove can be more easily rinsed.

If the oven becomes rusty or smells musty when cooking meat, rub the interior with French chalk every two weeks or once a month. This gives the oven the look of having been enameled.

Iceland is a country without a jail, a court, a penitentiary or a policeman. One reason for this is not far to seek—not a drop of alcoholic liquor is made, on the whole island, or permitted to be brought in. Another reason is that among 8500 inhabitants, every one over 10 years of age can read and write.

The Argentine Government has arranged to maintain permanently a meteorological station established by a British Antarctic expedition at Laurie Bay, the southernmost inhabited point in the world.

A Manager Has a Warm Job: Either the Club Fires Him or Fans "Burn Him Up"

MR. SHORT SPORT: That's right about Lunk Hedd being left

REB OAKES TURNS TAIL-ENDER INTO WINNER IN MONTH

Club Now Traveling at .630 Gait, Had Won Three Games Out of 14.

FIGHTING SPIRIT WINS

Injection of "Pep" and Earnestness Are Chief Factors in Re-Making Pittsfeds.

By W. J. O'Connor,

Every well regulated baseball league has its own little managerial sensation. There's Branch Rickey in the American, for instance, and Charles Lincoln Herzog in the National while the Federal circuit just now is all het up about Mr. Oakes—Mr. Ennis Tellfare Oakes, of Louisiana, suh, one of the proudest "pussons" that ever stood up when the band played "Dixie."

About 30 days ago, the Pittsburg club, then under the management of Doc Gessler, was giving a correct imitation of how the national game should not be played. In 14 games, the Smoketown rebels had managed to lose eleven and were trailing so far behind in the outlaw pennant procession that there was some talk of trading the Pittsburg franchise for the peanut privilege at the Pageant and Masque. But then came Mr. Oakes—Mr. Ennie Tellfare Oakes of Louisiana—who was crowned manager.

Oakes the Right Timber.

In less than 30 days, E. Tellfare Oakes—we're kinda keen about that Tellfare stuff—transformed the Smoketown blokes into a pennant contender. Since he assumed command, Oakes has managed to win 17 and lose only 10 games. His team, which had traveled at a .214 pace, immediately hit it up to a .630 gait. From last place the Pittsburg entry forged into first division, a berth the visitors occupy today.

Oakes was the victim of circumstances. The managerial togs was forced upon him and while it didn't seem to fit properly at first, he now wears it well. His team at the start of the season was considered the monumental joke of the new organization. However, he has reformed a lot of losers into fighting winners and while his organization on paper even now looks none too formidable, Oakes manages to win more than his share of the games.

He Tamed the Terrapins.

Oakes must be given credit for saving the Federal League race. Until his team went to Baltimore and whipped the Terrapins four straight games, the proteges of Otto Knabe were making a grand run-away of the pennant race. Knabe's team was not even within telephone distance of the field when Oakes' tailenders invaded the Maryland metropolis two weeks go. When Oakes came away, the Terrapins were reduced to "turtle soup." Pittsburg won four straight games.

Oakes says he has found no difficulty in running the club.

"This managerial game is duck soup for me," said E. Tellfare Tuesday. "I never worry about anything, just take the good with the bad and do my darndest.

"When I took hold of this club I called my players together and informed them that I understood they were all free-born American citizens and franchised voters. I believe they are old enough and smart enough to take care of themselves. I advised them that they were the best club in the circuit and suggested that they prove that fact to old General Public. They came through nicely.

"I have one rule that must be observed, towit: Get to bed at 11 p. m. and desert the box springs at 8 a. m. I tell my players that anything they want to do before 11 o'clock each night I'll help them do it; but they've got to chop off at 11 and hit the hay. They also must have their eggs by 8:30. All the rest of my rules can be written on the wrong end of a pin."

Things Drape Well on Reb.

Oakes' reputation as a manager is exceeded only by his fame as a dresser. In the National League E. Tellfare's clothes were considered the last thing in style. He can blend a riot of color into a supreme sortance of style that would make a walking "billboard" for a Broadway haberdasher look like a Market street cadet. Even to this day he sets the pace for the "Berry Walls" of baseball.

Reb, to be familiar, was born in Arizona, La., Dec. 17, 1886. He played two years with Grand Rapids, one with Cincinnati and four with the Cardinals. He ranks up among the leaders in the outlaw circuit, and is a perfect "devil in his own home town."

Saturday Games Start at 3.

A change has been made in the starting time of Saturday games at Sportsman's Park. Hereafter on that day the curtain will go up at 3 o'clock. On other days, the Senators, the nattiness will begin at 3:30 o'clock. Three bells is the starting time of Sunday games.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Xtry! All About the Amachoors.

EVER hear of that "International Rag?" Well, they're still chewing it over in Lyons, France. A discussion is on over there to boil down all the known facts concerning the common or domesticated animal, the amateur athlete.

The delegates to the International Amateur Athletic Federation went into the second round of the struggle Monday. The object sought is the definition of an amateur on which all the world can agree—a goal which, for ease of attainment, is commonly considered on a par with taming the militant suffragette or keeping a St. Louis ball team in first division.

The delegates, however, agreed on five major premises and 12 qualifying ones, after having been out only eight hours. By the end of the week, if the delegates hold out, the problem of the amateur will have been sifted down to a clean-cut definition embracing only a couple of hundred typewritten pages.

For Museum Purposes Only.

The federation committee's first finding opens with the assertion that an "amateur is one who competes solely for the love of the sport." This is an anachronism. What the committee meant was that "an amateur WAS one who," etc. Like the Great Auk and the Pterodactyl, the species described is now extinct.

However, the theory is right and covers the situation better than all the qualifying clauses that follow. But the simple rule will not and cannot be enforced; and so the committee has undertaken to further limit and qualify the poor, harried would-be-simon-purist. Here are some of the conditions under which an athlete may be recognized as being without reproach:

Must never have competed for money.

Must never have competed with or against a professional.

Must never have trained or coached athletes for pay.

Must never have wagered on himself or any contender in any event in which he was himself a participant.

Must never have accepted cash or certain other proscribed forms of prizes.

Must never have pawned or sold a trophy won in competition.

Let's Hire an Agency.

THE only drawback to this construction of the amateur is the slight difficulty to be noted in getting hold of the needed information to convict. Your cheating amateur is not apt to leave any "shells" around. A properly equipped detective agency might grab one or two offenders now and then.

Each Nation Its Own Judge.

THE international rag-chewing contest has done this, however. It has put it up to each nation to certify to the cleanliness of the men who are named to represent it. Having laid down the broad principles, the International committee has declared that the "member of the federation to which the athlete belongs, shall be the judge of his amateur status."

In other words, if James E. Sullivan puts the ball mark on Jim Thorpe, the other countries must accept him as O. K. That goes, of course for all athletes nominated by other countries, whose standing may be questioned.

Thorpe's Case a Warning.

THE chances for evil in this arrangement are many. The Thorpe case will show how mistakes of negligence may creep in. Thorpe, according to our rules, had professionalized himself for two years before he became a member of the Olympic team. Yet he was passed by James E. Sullivan, dictator of American athletics, as simple pure. After winning Olympic trophies and honors galore, THESE HAD TO BE STRIPPED FROM HIM MONTHS AFTER THE AWARDS HAD BEEN MADE.

IT is necessary to give the International committee credit for a lot of gameness. Any set of men willing to attack the amateur problem in any hopeful spirit of finding a solution agreeable to all, deserves nothing but soft words.

Where's Our 'Peerless Leader?'

THERE was some slight betting, a year agone, that Frank Chance would have his last place candidates out of the hole before the St. Louis Browns got going. It was stated that Chance was a wonderful leader and that all he needed was time to accomplish the wonder.

But we're on the second season, now. Frank has had unlimited hand in the treasury. He has paid some sweet prices for men like Naised and McKale; not a stint has been placed on him in the assembling of a club.

Yet, after his first season's work, he was barely able to nose his club ahead of the Browns and out of last place, at the end of the 1912 season. And that was BECAUSE THE BROWNS WERE TRYING TO CARRY STOVALL as well as their other handicaps.

Rickey Shows Up Chance.

THIS year, off to a running start, with every break in his favor, Chance has proven unable to hold his men up. They have been slipping steadily down while the Browns, under a new, untried leader, have shown real improvement and fight, and are in "first division."

It appears more and more as if Chance's world's championship players of 1906 and later, rather than his own executive ability, MADE HIM the "peerless leader"—a statement Charles Webb Murphy, of blessed (?) memory, was wont to make.

Chance, however, asked not to be judged until the three years of his contract had elapsed. Oh, very well! If Farrell can stand it, the St. Louis fans should worry.

Browns Show New Play That Shuts Off Sure Defeat

A brand-new play, and one that is apt to be adopted by every team in baseball, was uncovered during the mad melee at Sportsman's Park Monday, when three Brownies figured in making a double play in a case where only two men usually show. Credit for this goes to Jack Leary, the all-right kid first baseman, who is doing his share in making the Browns a first-division occupant.

With one run in and Clyde Milan on third, with one out, in the ninth, Morgan pasted a liner to left field. Milan, believing the drive was safe, dashed for the plate, but retreated to third when he learned that Clarence Walker was about to make the catch.

The instant Walker gloved the ball, the speeder was off again for home, with Walker's rifle-like shot in pursuit. The chuck was wide of the plate, but Leary dashed in, signaled Catcher Crossin to cover the plate and he (Leary) would take the throw. Leary grabbed the ball and in turn passed it to Crossin, who put it on Milan's spikes for the second out.

Had Crossin attempted to make the play alone, he would have failed, as he would have had to leave his place at the plate and had no time to get back for the runner.

It was this same play that caused the entire Washington team to crowd about Umpire O'Loughlin. For awhile it seemed that something rash would happen. Milan had to be pulled away from the umps by teammates. He made a noise like he wanted to swat "Silk." Of course, Milan was put out of the game.

Wichita Pitcher Goes to Colonels.

WICHITA, Kan., June 3.—Manager Nick Maddox of the Wichita (Western League) Baseball Club, today announced the trading of "Rope" Perry, a pitcher, to the Louisville team, in the American Association, for Pitcher Baker and another pitcher to be chosen later.

IF YOU KNOW when you see a bargain, you'll buy a diamond at Loftis Bros. & Co., the National Credit Jewelers, 2d floor, 306 N. 6th st. Don't put it off. We have a fine diamond for every honest man and woman. Pay as you get paid. Open evenings.

MINER BROWN NOT TO LOSE JOB, SAYS FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Rumor That Manager of Local Outlaws Will Be Superseded Is Strong.

Opposite opinions as to the truth of the rumor that Mordecai Brown is to be removed as manager of the St. Louis Federal League club were expressed Tuesday by persons in close touch with the inner-workings of the new local league venture.

Walter Fritsch, one of the stockholders, was emphatic in his denial of the story, while another attache of the club who refused to be quoted, said that a change in managers was imminent. It is stated that Brown has failed to exercise the proper authority over his men and that many of the players are not observing strictly the rather lenient rules of discipline, off the field.

The report that Al Bridwell would succeed Brown was spiked on all sides. Even if offered the job, Bridwell would not accept, as he would prefer to quit rather than succeed Brownie. It was his friendship for the three-fingered wonder that caused Bridwell to sign with the local club.

Mars.ns a Possibilty.

It is generally understood that Armando Marsans, the Cuban star, late of Cincinnati, will line up with the local Feds before the end of this week. Whether Marsans is being considered for the managerial berth is more than any one appears willing to admit. The whole story seems to have been inspired by the recent losing streak of the club.

Future games at Federal League Park, beginning today (Tuesday), will be started at 4 o'clock. Every attempt will be made to hurry the games along, and no delay will be incurred chasing foul balls. This late starting time will permit the fans to leave town as late as 3:45 and be on hand for the start of hostilities.

An agent of organized baseball who, by the way, is a former hotel detective and ex-member of the Police Department, has made himself conspicuous about Federal League Park. By the "clocks" the paid attendance. He aims to keep accurate count of all those who pay to see the games, and his report is turned over to the proper authorities and eventually reaches the office of Ban Johnson. Business Manager Willis Johnson has been watching the "clocker" work, and says his work isn't a bit fine.

This is Ladies' day at Federal League Park.

Griffith's Debating Society Talks Itself Out of Victory

Fans Object to Delay

"Watchful Waiting" Policy of Clark Griffith Makes the "Ump" Hot and Suppers Cold, While the Browns Come On and Cop the Contest.

By Clarance F. Lloyd.

CLARK GRIFFITH thinks that a ball game won in four hours counts just as much as one bagged in one hour 23 minutes. His calculation is correct, but in two of the three instances here, his "watchful, waiting" policy has netted him the wrong end of the tally.

Griff, an old pitcher himself, is trying to make it easy on his hurlers. For that reason he has instructed his corps to take their time in serving the opposition. He doesn't have a morning meeting and figures that his athletes can sleep late if they engage in a belated evening session of the national pastime. For instance, the Nationals tried until 7 p. m. Monday to spank the Browns. Instead, they suffered an 8-7 defeat.

No Hurry, Boys.

After every pitch by a Washington heaver the team holds a caucus. The catcher starts the delay by walking out to hand the ball to the pitcher instead of throwing it. Then Capt. McBride struts in to tell the hurler not to worry despite the fact that the first man has soaked a triple. Manager McBride retreats to his position, "Chick" Gandil is on his way to the mound to assure the pitcher that he has eight mates working along with him. Gandil's little speech finished, Outfielder Morgan is on hand to pat the mound man on the back with the tip that the next guy will slap into a double play.

Eddie Foster gets in his bit of conversation and it isn't unusual for Dan Moeller or Clyde Milan to saunter in to venture an opinion as to what should be offered next. All this done, the curver is set to pitch when Clark Griffith struts out from the rathskeller and there is additional delay while the "Old Fox" tells the heavy man to "put something on it."

This same dose is repeated after every Washington pitch explains why the Washington club is piling up a record for long-drawn-out games.

Cold Potatoes the Rule.

Monday's performance almost equaled the Pageant and Masque. There was an afternoon show with part of a night entertainment tossed in. It required three hours and 35 minutes to play the game. The Nationals are going to help no umpire win the annual bonus offered by President Johnson of the A. L. for the best average of rapid games played. Ban Johnson's recent instruction to fury games has caused the Washington club to delay 'em just as much as they choose.

The Nationals are anything but pleased with their sojourn in St. Louis. They have played three games and have won one. Walter Johnson was mighty lucky to get away with that, as he was hanging on the ropes, despite the fact that he was coddled and petted along for two hours and 15 minutes like a 2-year-old. That victory put the Nationals in first place, where they remained even after Sunday's defeat. But Boss Brown knocked 'em below the Athletics in Monday's prolonged attraction.

Vacation for Milan.

The Griffmen are fighting every inch of the way. This aggressive spirit incidentally may cost the team the service of Clyde Milan, champion base stealer, for three days. Clyde is expected to draw a vacation for shoving Umpire O'Loughlin about the home plate after "ear muffs" had called him out with what might have proved the winning run in the ninth.

For a couple of hours before the local finish the Athletics' victory was posted on the scoreboard and the Nationals realized that they must win to retain the lead. They tried hard but instead of the old-time easy submitting Browns they have found a bunch of scrappers here. Yea, Bo, the Browns have finally got them sitting up and observing. They can't expect to fatten up on Grand avenue any more. It isn't Mr. Rickey's policy.

Earl Hamilton, who is regarded by many as the Browns' most dependable hurler, will shoot left-handed offerings at the Nationals in Tuesday's matinee. To think of winning three out of four games from a pennant contender may sound like a rash desire. But such a thing is possible, Ossip.

Nicholf is hitting timely for the Reds. His home run gave the protege of Charles Lincoln Herzog a victory over the Braves, 2-1. The Reds scored two in the ninth.

HARRY LEGG TURNS IN LOW CARD, 150, AT K. C. TOURNEY

Four-Time Champion of the Transmississippi Makes Second Round in 73.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 9.—Carl O. Anderson, an 18-year-old freshman at the University of Kansas, playing as an entry of the Oread Golf Club, Lawrence, Kan., surprised the large galleries following today's play in the transmississippi golf tournament by his consistent, snappy play, and turned in a card of 81 for the 18 holes, making his qualifying score for the two-days play for 36 holes 160.

Harry Legg of Minneapolis continued his sensational playing of yesterday and finished the first nine holes in 35, the same score as yesterday.

The 200 caddies caused a delay of over an hour in starting the tournament this morning, when they left the course to chase off the grounds a boy who was trying to "run things." Play was delayed until the caddy master could round up the boys and bring them back to the clubhouse.

Following are the qualifying scores for the two days' play:

Lawrence Kinnear, Oread Golf Club, 170; Grant Chamberlain, Country Club, Hutchinson, Kan., 164; Dr. S. R. Cunningham, Golf and Country Club, Oklahoma City, 163.

Bemis' Card Is 169.

Harry G. Legg, Minikahda Club, Minneapolis, 150; H. C. Campbell, Country Club, Kansas City, 153; S. W. Reynolds, Field Club, Omaha, 155; G. Fredericksen, Golf and Country Club, Oklahoma City, 167; Drake Lightner, Town and Country Club, St. Paul, 163; J. W. Bemis, Glen Echo Country Club, St. Louis, 169; R. C. Finerty, Golf and Country Club, Oklahoma City, 184; Karl O. Bock, Field Club, Omaha, 170; D. B. Hussey, Glen Echo Country Club, St. Louis, 177.

WILLIAMS 10-9 CHOICE OVER BANTAM CHAMPION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 9.—Jim Gutenko, the Danish fighter, who has risen rapidly to fame as a bantamweight scrapper in this country, who is known to the world as Kid Williams, is a 10-9 favorite to beat champion Johnny Coulon in their bout today.

Williams has shown decided superiority over all opponents in his rapid advance to the front, while Coulon was for two years, thought to be down and out.

Coulon appears in good shape and says he is as good as ever. A long period of illness weakened Coulon. In his recent workouts he has shown what appears to be his old-time strength.

The contest is scheduled to last 8 rounds.

Free Baseball Outfits.

The Bull Durham contest for free baseball outfits to teams of amateurs or semi-professionals in and around St. Louis is getting livelier every day, and closes June 11. There are about 40 contestants thus far that have received votes ranging from 2708 for the La Salle Star, leaders thus far, down to two votes for the Razorback A. C.

With Branch for Manager, Why Not Play Those Browns "Out on the Limb"?

KAW CITY TENNIS STAR BEATEN BY ST. LOUIS WOMAN

Two surprises were sprung on local tennis enthusiasts, Tuesday morning, at the Women's State Championship Tournament now being held on the Triple A courts. Miss Lesley La Beaume, a local player, defeated Mrs. Ralph Peer, one of the Kansas City entrants, in straight sets, 6—1, 6—3. Mrs. Peer was conceded by many to have the best chances of taking the singles title. She could not cope with Miss La Beaume's splendid play. As the Kansas City pair lost in doubles yesterday, Mrs. Peer is out of all competition.

The other surprise was the result of the match between Miss Mimi Garesche and Miss Louise Lionberger, which was won by Miss Garesche in straight sets, 6—3, 7—5. Miss Lionberger braced at the end of the second set but could not overcome a three game lead. The winner will play Miss La Beaume for admission to the semi-final round.

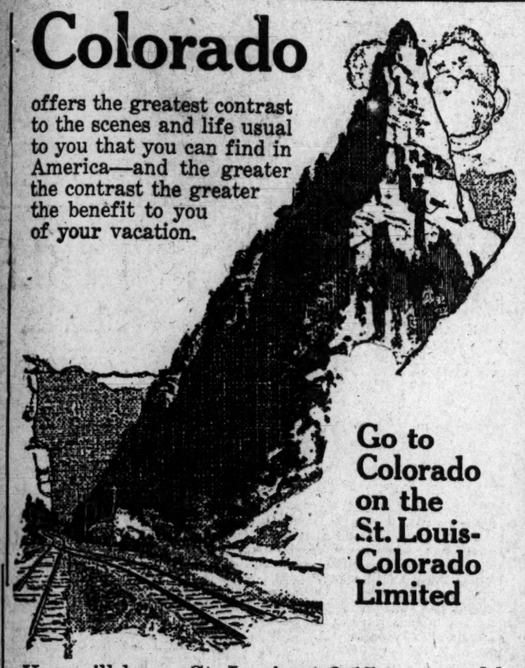

As was expected, Miss Cecille Bradshaw won from Miss Vesta Brown, 6—2, 8—6.

In the only doubles match of the morning Misses Edith McCormack and Helen Forbes won their match from Misses Katherine Wagner and Cecille Bradshaw, in a queer setto. The first set was a romp, 6—0, while the second went 7—5.

One match was played in the junior division by the girls. Helen Grat zand Frances Treat entered the semi-final round by defeating Eleanor Knapp and Esther Capen in three sets, 4—6, 6—4, 6—3. The play was really the best of the morning. Quite a number of matches will be contested this afternoon.

JIM FLYNN, BADLY BEATEN, LOSES TO MORRIS ON FOUL

$10,000 Crowd Sees Oklahoma Giant Get Sweet Revenge on the Fireman.

By Billy McCarney,
Former Manager for "White Hope" Luther McCarty.

JOPLIN, Mo., June 9.—Carl Morris came into his own last night when he handed Jim Flynn an artistic lacing in a bout scheduled to go 15 rounds.

The end came in the ninth round. Flynn sending a terrific right to the Oklahoman's stomach. The blow went low and Morris sank to the canvas writhing in pain.

Referee Ed W. Cochrane of Kansas City counted over Morris. Flynn, at the count of 10, rushed from the ring figuring himself victorious, with Morris still squirming on the floor.

Morris' seconds carried him to his corner and a physician was called. He made an examination and Referee Cochrane then declared the big engineer had been fouled and awarded him the verdict.

The referee had not previously given a decision, Flynn taking it for granted the bout had ended when he heard the count.

Bets Are Paid Off.

If, for no other reason, Flynn lost according to a strict interpretation of the rules, when he left the ring before the decision had been given. Bets were paid on the referee's ruling that Morris had won on a foul.

It was a hard battle from the beginning to the sensational ending in the ninth round. Morris showed much improvement over his previous efforts. He floored Flynn three times in the sixth round and played a tattoo on the face and body of Flynn. From the first tap of the bell Flynn was busy tearing into Morris, even in the sixth, when it looked as if he were doomed.

Both men showed results of the punishment by the other fellow.

The enormous crowd was well handled. The receipts were $10,016.

The men will be rematched to meet here July 4, or Flynn may meet Jeff Clark, the "Fighting Ghost," here on Independence day.

Sexagenarians May Meet to Decide Rowing Title; Race to Be for Side Bet

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., June 9.—James Riley of Saratoga Lake, the veteran sculler, who has for several years been trying to get a race with James Ten Eyck, Syracuse, for the veteran championship of the world, today deposited $100 with a stakeholder as part of a side bet of $250 to bind the match.

Under the conditions, if Ten Eyck accepts, the balance of the purse is to be deposited six days before the race, which is to be rowed the first week in August.

Riley is 67 and Ten Eyck 64.

Among those who viewed Monday's game at Federal League park was Jimmy Sheckard, once member of the famous Cub machine and now manager of the Cleveland (A. A.) club. Sheck went to the Buckingham for dinner with Reb Oakes, but has no intention of jumping to the outlaws. He was merely passing through, from Louisville to St. Paul.

SPORT SALAD

by L. C. DAVIS

Washington Debating Club.

THOSE Washingtons are certainly a dilatory bunch;
When going out to see them you had better take your lunch.
They hold a consultation after each and every pitch,
And talk the matter over till it gives a guy the itch.

To see the infield gather round the pitcher for a chat.
For holding their discussions, they had better rent a hall,
Confining all their efforts at the park to playing ball.

Ah, ha! Oh, ho! Eh, hee! Looks like first division!

The Clark Griffith Debating Society will hold another session at Sportsman's Park, this afternoon.

If Griff would let the public in on what the talk is to be about it might ease the strain a little.

Why Not Sign Gaby des Lys?

On second thought, though, it may be inside baseball they're pulling instead of a Talkverein. Beg pardon, Griff.

There was a nice turnout, quite a number of whom stayed until the seventh inning. The majority, however, left in the sixth to avoid a run-in with the bigger half.

Instead of tossing the ball back to the pitcher in the customary way John Henry makes a personally conducted tour from the plate out to the pitcher's box and hands him the ball with a neat little presentation speech.

More Elbow Grease, John.

We take it that John has been reading up on "conservation of the soupbone."

Thanks to the Browns and Detroits, the erstwhile demons of the second division, there is a pretty little struggle going on for first place in the American League.

Wonder if "Silk" O'Loughlin wears those outriggers on his mask to preserve his mental balance.

After the Ball.

The dewy morn was breaking fast
As through the city streets there passed
A fan returning from the grounds,
Who met the milkman on his rounds.

"Where have you been?" the milkman said;
"Your family thought that you were dead;"
The fan replied: "I'm not to blame,
It was an extra-inning game."

If the Terriers had Cigarmaker Marsans in their lineup they might have beaten the Stogies.

Breeches of promise seem to be Jeff Tesreau's long suit.

Jimmy Archer's Arm in Cast; Will Be Out of Game for a Month

NEW YORK, June 9.—Jimmy Archer, star catcher of the Chicago National League Club, will probably be out of the game for a month or more as the result of the injury to his arm during Saturday's game in Brooklyn. An examination of the arm by the X-ray specialists showed that the bone was cracked at the elbow. The arm has been put in a plaster paris cast.

MISS BROWNE TO DEFEND HER TITLE ON COURT

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Weather conditions were ideal for the second day's play in the Women's National Lawn Tennis championships at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

Miss Mary Browne, the national champion, who is here to defend her title, will take part in the mixed doubles today with William T. Tilden Jr. of this city as her partner.

The Pittsburg-Terrier game will start at 4 o'clock. If the Washington-Browns game starts at noon they'll both be out about the same time.

Clyde Wares' Double in the Tenth Scores Winning Marker for Browns

CLYDE WARES, the chatterbox shortstop of the Browns, who can't hit, crossed those who make that claim by poking a double in the tenth round of Monday's game and shoving over the winning run. The score was: Browns, 8; Washington, 7. Incidentally it was this same Wares person who nicked a single in the second round with the bases packed, scoring the first run of the game. Wares is rapidly forcing himself in the same class with Clarence Walker and Jack Leary. He's making a hit.

Attendance for Monday was good. More than 3000 saw the game.

There was a lot of good baseball and some poor baseball crowded into 10 innings. Most of the pitching was inferior, as is attested by the fact that Managers Rickey and Griffith each used three hurlers.

Bill James and Jim Shaw squared off at the start. The Browns made things easy for the giant by collecting four runs for him in the first three innings. He couldn't stand prosperity, however, and permitted the Nationals to knot it in the fourth and fifth. They went ahead one in their half of the sixth, and after the Browns again evened it up in the home half, Bill gave way to Harry Hoch, the young right-hander.

Hoch's debut was a failure, because Ernie Walker, subbing for Gus Williams, mistook himself for a second baseman and Foster's fly scooted over his head for a double. When he passed Milan, Roy Mitchell was sent for. Roy hit the next man, filling the bases, with none gone. He curved good ball in this inning and but for a wild throw to third would have escaped with no runs being scored. Only one came over and that tied it up again.

After Shaw passed Shotton and pitched two balls to Austin in the seventh, he was benched and Doc Ayers went in. He picked Shotton off first but issued two more balls to Austin and Jim walked. Then Pratt struck out but Ernie Walker got his third hit, a scratch down the first base line and when Catcher Henry tossed the ball to right field, Austin tallied and Ernie went to second.

You swing on "joy makin's!"

Get it into your mind pretty quick that Prince Albert is just as bully delicious rolled up into a cigarette as jammed into a jimmy pipe—and that means going some, too.

Just to change your luck, switch for a spell from the dust-brands and fire-brands and know first hand what a real and true jimmy pipe or makin's cigarette can taste like when you get the brand of tobacco that men everywhere pin their faith to—the national joy smoke

PRINCE ALBERT

It's all out of fashion to suffer with a stung tongue or a parched throat. Because Prince Albert is scot-free from that sort of thing.

If you didn't know it before, get this news direct from headquarters: Prince Albert tobacco is made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. It's just all-good, with a flavor and a fragrance and freshness unequalled by any other brand at any price!

Men, that's some talk some talk, but it's right and it's up to you to match a dime against our say-so.

Just lay a bet right here that P. A. will give you absolutely what you've hunted for years, either in a pipe or a cigarette. And that goes! Right now's the time, too, while the "listen" is in your system.

Buy P. A. everywhere; in toppy red bags, 5c; in tidy red tins, 10c; also in handsome pound and half pound humidor jars.

If a King's Doctor told you to take Sanatogen—

you would be impressed—for you know that a King's Doctor must be a man of highest professional standing. You would take Sanatogen feeling confident that it would do the things promised; give you fresh vigor, fortify your system as no other tonic could.

Now it is a fact that the private physicians to seven Emperors and Kings, after personal observation of its effects, have endorsed Sanatogen in writing. (See, for instance, the accompanying letters of Dr. Ott and Dr. Kuhn.)

So you see a King's physician might recommend Sanatogen to you, if you could consult him—indeed there are over 19,000 practising physicians who would tell you to take Sanatogen, because they all have written us of its wonderful beneficient effect, of its power to strengthen the nerves, to help digestion, enrich the blood and generally uplift the system in a natural, lasting manner.

Such are the credentials of Sanatogen—they should, they must convince you that Sanatogen has a service to perform in your case.

Sanatogen is sold by good druggists everywhere in three sizes from $1.00 up.

Dr. Ernest Ott, Late King Edward's physician, Marienbad, writes: "I have been using Sanatogen for a number of years in my practice with excellent results."

Dr. Conrad Kuhn, Physician to the Court of H. I. M. the Emperor of Austria, writes: "I have had the very best results from Sanatogen."

No desirable property need remain tenantless for very long. No desirable property, attractively advertised, ever DOES stand vacant for many days.

ONE would suppose that every property owner, and every real estate agent, KNEW THIS FACT BY THIS TIME. But the most obvious facts are learned but slowly—sometimes only after long continued losses of rent income—by some over-conservative people.

If you are not getting the best results, have your agent rewrite the advertisement and embody all the attractive features—then keep the property listed in St. Louis' One Big House, Home and Real Estate Direct—

THREAT TO BOYCOTT PAPERS UPHOLDING PRESIDENT IS SEEN

Head of Auto Company, Hints at Withholding Business From Administraton Supporters.

DETROIT, Mich., June 9.—Henry B. Joy, president of the Packard Motor Car Co., widely known through his connection with the Lincoln Highway Commission and his arguments before congressional committees against the tariff bill which was passed last year, today made public a letter which he has written to Marshall Cushing of New York, which is regarded here as a move for national boycott by business men of newspapers which support the Wilson administration.

The letter is as follows:

"Your two favors of May 22 and May 23 I find upon my return from a few days' absence. I do not know where you get the idea that I expect to take some unusual action about advertising. I have no intention of doing so. I think every intelligent advertiser is today studying in the highest degree how he can place his advertising so as to best promote the welfare of his business and that of his employes.

"If you were a business man, selling goods at wholesale or at retail or manufacturing them, would you advertise in publications which were seeking in every way to destroy business possibilities by creating conditions under which business could not thrive or exist except in a most modified degree over what would be possible by return to intelligent conditions?

"I do not think that the discussion of intelligent advertising involves anything new. Certainly no manufacturer desires in any way to purchase or dictate the editorial or business policy of any publication, but certainly it is his privilege to refrain from advertising in a publication which in his judgment is doing his business more harm by the doctrines which it advocates than he can receive in any possible way in benefit to his business by advertising therein.

"This looks to me like simple horse sense."

HERESY CHARGES STIR NEW YORK PRESBYTERY

Ordination of Two Candidates Held Up by Protests Made by the Rev. John Fox.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The New York Presbytery is stirred again by heresy charges and protests against ordination of Union Seminary candidates. After two hours of discussion at a session yesterday further answer to protests was put up to a committee.

The two men whose beliefs were questioned are Charles Hall Wicks, a Cornell graduate before coming to Union, and James M. Howard, a Yale man.

The Rev. John Fox made a protest in April and it was replied to yesterday by a committee.

Howard was asked whether he believed that Moses saw God on the mount. The young man pitted St. John's statement against that of Exodus: "No man hath seen God at any time." Asked whether he believed that Moses got the pattern for the tabernacle from God direct, Howard said he would not commit himself to so mechanical a view of inspiration.

When Wicks was asked if he believed the virgin birth, he replied that he probably would find no occasion to preach it, "since nobody nowadays preached sermons on such subjects."

SNOW, SUNSHINE, RAIN AND HAIL DESCEND ON PARIS

Thunderstorm and Gale Also Recorded; Lightning Twice Hits Eiffel Tower.

PARIS, June 9.—Snow fell in Paris early yesterday for one hour, leaving a light layer on the heights of Montmartre. Later came glittering sunshine, then snow again for a few minutes, then a terrific storm with a violent gale and finally a sharp hailstorm.

M. Camille Flammarion writes that he considers the storm a memorable meterological happening. He was on the Eiffel tower when the storm began and says the tower was struck by lightning twice.

"Two brilliant flashes lit up the sky," he writes, "making a magnificent spectacle, which, nevertheless, was without danger, since this iron cage, 300 meters high, is one of the finest conductors and harbors its occupants in complete safety."

GOLDEN WEDDING HELD

Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegenhein Celebrate Their Fiftieth Anniversity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegenhein of 3519 Ohio avenue celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday night at the Mission Inn, Grand and Magnolia avenues. Ten children, 17 grandchildren, one great-grandchild and many friends were present.

Ziegenhein is 77 years old, and his wife is 67. Until 13 years ago they lived on a farm near Manchester. Then he moved to St. Louis and entered the undertaking and livery business, which he turned over to his sons five years ago. His brother was former Mayor Henry Ziegenhein, who died several years ago.

WIFE'S LETTERS TO FUTURE HUSBAND ARE READ IN TRIAL

They Were Written to Man She Has Since Wed When She Was Wife of Clergyman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 9.—Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the United States District Court admitted to the record the love letters written by Mrs. Elizabeth A. C. Holman to Frederick Ernest Holman before he became her husband and while she was still the wife of the Rev. Dr. Cranston Brenton of Yonkers.

Mrs. Holman is suing Dr. Brenton, Dr. Oliver C. Smith and Dr. Paul Waterman for $50,000 damages, alleging conspiracy to kidnap and confine her in an asylum until she paid the price of release—a written confession of misconduct with Holman, who was named in the suit for divorce berought and won by the Rev. Mr. Brenton.

The clergyman, first witness for the defense, made a general denial of his former wife's charges, declaring he thought it best for her to be confined, since he had seen evidence of mental abnormality in her correspondences with a man she had never seen. He added that his wife loaned $1000 to Holman before she had met him. Then the love letters were offered. Mrs. Holman wept with her face pillowed in her arms while they were read.

The "Note of Passion."

Mrs. Holman's "Note of Passion" was headed to be opened and read the night of May 10. Excerpts from it follow:

I long for you so that I am half afraid to see you. I long to give myself to you—to be all yours at last—that I hardly dare think of our green woods tonight, then you are mine and mine alone. The home ties behind you—the "open road" ahead of you—and time enough—and the whirls of fresh air to ease the beating head and heart—to listen at last to the want—to the poor want of the boy—that comes with the spring and the earth is awakening without fear of the telltale color of the cheeks—causing comment and criticism.

Once upon a time Eros gave a masked ball and invited the emotions. They came in costume—costume intended to conceal the identity of each. To harp and flute they danced. They quaffed the wine of life and their merry feast chased the flying hours.

Eros watched and smiled.

He knew.

Deeper they drank. Wilder grew the dance, tongues too reserved were loosened. Maidens demure grew bold. Somber men grew gay. Brave men grew braver. Talent grew to genius; genius grew to inspiration. The time for unmasking came and all the guests had taken off their masks—save three.

Anger tore the mask from passion, and lo! there stood purity. Turning in his wrath, Anger stripped the mask from the other unmasked guest who had come as Innocence and there stood Ignorance. A dozen hands reached out and tore the mask from Anger—and there stood jealousy.

Eros watched and smiled.

He knew.

Head Bent in Reverence.

And so tonight—the world shut out—I knelt beside the little white bed, wet lips against wet lips, and I drink the soul of thee. My truant hands caress thee in a thousand ways. And in reverence I bend my head and kiss a little scar and then thy mouth again, with gentle hands against thy twin heart. And then Dear God, Dear God, I have thee—and possess thee until thou canst not move or speak, but only moan the soft inarticulate moans of love's own tender nearness—satisfied.

Dear God, Dear God, oh Babe, oh Babe, and later as the east grows red, thy tired boy with arms close wrapped about thee and dark head buried in thy breast—goes to his dreams among the stars, with thee thy lover boy. How can I part with this? But for thy sake, I dare not keep it.

Thy wife.

Under date of May 11, the next day, the then Mrs. Brenton wrote her present husband from the Wayside Inn, Sudbury, Mass.:

Oh, Babe, Babe and earnest lover, tenderest mate, passionate pure soul that I love. I have just read the first of thy love notes. I have only this moment to write thee. There was a mistake about our rooms and poor Grace, jumping at the chance, lodged H. elsewhere and came into the big double-bedded "Longfellow" room with me. So until tomorrow night shall I be alone with thee dear God, dear God, in heaven to come in out of a long day in the sun and air—the awakening earth a green picture in my eyes—and to find you waiting for me in the full tide of your pure, swift, all-conquering hands passion—with wet lips and hungry, gentle hands and the hot red blood in your fine veins mounting under my touch, like fever. Oh, Ernest, my man, I have sensed this mood in us both all the springtime. How we keep together emotionally every step of the way. Oh, my beloved, you know that you are my life and my heart's blood and thy desire in mine concurs if the time has come when you want me you know that I am yours. If the summer comes the gentle hands (with the soft cushions on the finger tips that mean "sensitiveness") are still thus hungered, they shall possess their own. It is time to cool that blood of thine if it mounts to a living fever that will not be denied. Be patient.

"Beloved Pearl of Purity."

In a few weeks I shall be in thine arms with all I have to give thee. Alas, my soul, that we must deny our little dark-haired boy a little longer. I could only compass that by returning to a man I have finally freed myself from—neither then nor I could live in that deceit. For the rest, I am thine when thou wilt, in body as in soul. Thy mate is not afraid to pay that masked figure that is furity, his ultimate prize, my pride and crown that destine me beyond the power to keep silence. My wet lips upon thine. Mist brown eyes in thine—little trembling hands draw the dark head to the hollow between thy twin hearts.

Another tiny love note will go to thee tomorrow night. I love you more than all. More than I know and I am externally

THY WIFE BETH.

One of Holman's replies began:

Blessed little sine qua non. My own dear little honey girl—my pure one, my sweet child, my modern Madonna—my beloved pearl of purity—my passionate Pandora—who can hardly keep her little hands from off the cover of the box—my wonder—my heroic pet and my brave Bess, the complete fulfillment of all my hopes, joys, fears, desires, aims and ends—embracing, as you do, all tearful tenderness, all frolicsome fun, all that stands for gentle gentleness, tender tenderness, loving longingness and that rare and beautiful understanding that understands—who are a quaint and winsome child, pure and passionate maid, woman, wife and perfect mother—essence of truth and distillation of dearness—I love thee, love thee and can find no words worthy of thee.

Writing again that because she had whooping cough, she would have no excuse to see Holman, she wrote: "Hurrah for the whooping cough."

"HEALTH INSTITUTE" PROPRIETOR ARRESTED

Dr. T. E. Allen, proprietor of "The World's Health Institute," [illegible] Washington avenue, was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Davis Tuesday morning on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Allen was indicted by the Federal grand jury June 4. According to the Postoffice Inspectors, Allen has been sending out literature, in which he stated that pneumonia could be treated by mail and cured within two days, and typhoid fever within a few hours. He told Postoffice Inspector Wynne that he had been practicing medicine [illegible] years and never had written a death certificate for pneumonia.

A Washington University professor, to whom Allen sent literature, turned it over to the Health Department, which gave it to the Postoffice Department.

GETS SIX MONTHS FOR ROLLING BEER KEG INTO CHURCH

Frank Weis, 21 years old, pleaded guilty in Justice Frey's Court in St. Charles Tuesday to the charge of disturbing a religious assembly, by rolling a beer keg down the aisle of the Fifth Street Methodist Church Monday night, when Mrs. E. J. Forsythe was speaking to a congregation of men there. The maximum punishment, a $200 fine and a six months' jail sentence, was imposed, and Weis was taken to jail to begin serving his sentence.

Weis went into court with a light heart, seeming to think that his offense would be treated as a prank. He was astonished when, after his plea of guilty, Prosecuting Attorney Daudt and Justice Frey denounced his conduct, and told him he could expect no leniency.

Two Others to Fight Case.

George Galvin and Frank Ruff, who were arrested with Weis, after a chase by the men of the church, decided to fight the case, and will be arraigned Wednesday. Galvin is married, and has three children.

"This was one of the most disgraceful things that ever happened in St. Charles," said Prosecuting Attorney Daudt, in asking for a "limit" sentence. "It was made worse, if possible, by the fact that a lady was conducting the religious service which was interrupted in this barbarous fashion."

St. Charles saloon keepers declared they approved the severe punishment, and that they had no knowledge of the plan to break up the meeting.

Incident Breaks Up Service.

E. J. Forsythe and his wife have been jointly conducting an evangelistic campaign in a large tent near the Fifth Street Church. He was speaking to women in the tent Monday night, while his wife was speaking to a church-full of men. In the midst of her address there was a noise at the entrance and the beer keg, dripping the dregs of its recent contents, thumped down the aisle and bumped into a pew half-way to the pulpit. The service was broken up and the men pursued and caught Weis and his companions.

Weis said he and his cronies met in a clubhouse, and after having nearly emptied the keg, drove with it in a buggy to a place near the church.

Evangelist Forsythe and the workers in his meetings arranged several days ago for a parade through the business streets Tuesday night. This parade will be given according to the original plan, it was stated Tuesday.

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

SPECULATION IN WALL ST. QUIET; PRICES STEADY

Bank of England Gets $4,000,000 Gold; British Consols Are Firm.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Prices on the Stock Exchange advanced during most of the busy hours today, but transactions were not large, and there were frequent stretches of the familiar inactivity. Most of the day's net gains were fractional.

"European stock exchanges, like our own, were cheerful, London in particular being favorably affected by the fact that the Bank of England this time again got practically all of the $4,000,000 weekly gold arrivals from the Transvaal. British consols and French rentes advanced ¼ point apiece.

More Gold Goes Out.

"So far as the day's news was a factor in the absence of Stock Exchange activity, the two lately familiar opposing influences continued, in the shape of another batch of export gold engagements, offset by favorable crop news.

"Today $4,500,000 gold was taken—which, with yesterday's $4,000,000 actual withdrawals and $1,000,000 more bespoken yesterday, but not withdrawn until today, made $9,500,000 thus far in the week. The movement is in clearly increasing volume and in fact, foreign exchange today held close to the top level of the season.

"None of the gold was taken for London—a perplexing fact, which is difficult to explain, in view of what Paris has already received, and of the relative status of the French and English bank reserves of gold.

"As to the crops, the Government's review of weather conditions during the past week is almost entirely favorable. In the spring wheat belt the week's weather has been of the best; in the winter wheat belt good growing influences are maintained; even in the cotton section, east and west, the unfavorable conditions, reflected in last week's monthly cotton estimate, have in large measure been reversed.

"This is interesting, especially since the weekly review covers the period since returns for yesterday's grain crop estimate were compiled. Naturally it inspired Chicago to raise its own forecast, for the total wheat crop, above the department's, 900,000,000 bu.

"Illustrating yet another tendency of the day, the 'idle car statement' showed addition of 3160 cars to the country's sidetracked equipment in the fortnight past."

The Rate Case Decision.

"Whatever doubt may have existed yesterday as to the full scope of the Supreme Court's decision on conflicting state and federal railway rates, should have been removed by the text of Justice Hughes' opinion.

"The Interstate Commission, in the original controversy with the Texas Rate Board, had left it doubtful whether the remedy might not be to reduce the Interstate rate to the level fixed by Texas, on its internal business. But the Supreme Court says that this was not the real purport of the Interstate Commission's own attitude.

"It further states very positively that the railways in question need not reduce their interstate rates because of the Texas commission's lower requirements, and that they need not be governed by those requirements, even on business wholly within the State, where the result would be discrimination.

"This is as clear a pronouncement as the highest court could render against the all but intolerable burden thrown, by the long continued clashing of jurisdiction, upon railways, which desire to obey the law.

"As the opinion is further studied, railway executives will better understand its high importance to all legitimate transportation interests."

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, June 9.—After a dull and irregular opening today, the stock market stiffened. All the active stocks made gains, running up to a point for Union Pacific. There were no new elements in the speculative situation on which to base a buying movement, but sentiment was cheered by the highly favorable developments of yesterday, including the crop report, the Shreveport rate decision and the improved Mexican outlook. Virginia debt certificates broke 1½ on the ruling of the Supreme Court which permits reopening of the case, involving another long delay. The rapid outflow of gold continued. The engagement of $5,000,000 more for Europe was announced without affecting the market.

NEW YORK, June 9.—An early rise of stock prices today was carried further during the morning, although the average gain was not great.

Scarcity of stocks was evident from the ease with which prices were advanced, despite the unusual volume of gold exports. Bonds were steady.

Tobacco shares rose materially on small buying, and there was a brisk demand for various minor specialties.

The market closed steady. Realizing caused some recessions in the late dealings, but the general undertone was good.

New York Produce.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Butter steady; receipts, 22,855 tubs; creamery extras, 26¼@26¾c. Cheese steady; receipts, 7172 boxes; State whole milk fresh white or colored specials, 15¼c; do average fancy, 14¾c. Eggs firm; receipts, 32,862 cases; fresh gathered extra firsts, 21¾@22½c; firsts, 20½@21¼c; seconds, 19@19¾c. Poultry—Dressed quiet and unchanged.

STEADY CABLES HELP BULLS IN COTTON PIT

NEW YORK, June 9.—Cotton opened steady today, 1 to 4 higher, in sympathy with steady Liverpool cables, and soon became firmer on foreign buying, covering by recent sellers and scattering trade demand.

Demand became more active late in the forenoon and active months sold 5 to 8 points net higher before midday, but the market turned a shade easier after the publication of the weekly bureau, and prices sold 3 or 4 points from the best.

The bearish view of the weekly weather report failed to create any important selling power, and the market ruled quiet, but steady during the middle of the afternoon, with prices about 3 to 5 points net higher. The close was steady.

Liverpool Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, June 9.—Cotton—Spot firm; good middling, 8.37d; middling, 7.79d; low middling, 7.31d. Sales, 4000; speculation and export, 300.

National Bank of Commerce stock sold at $125 at the forenoon session of the local Stock Exchange Tuesday, or a quarter point advance from the final sale on Monday. The issue was offered at $125 as the session closed, with bids at $124.50. Other bank and trust shares were quiet and irregular in price.

United Railways securities were inactive, but quotations both on the stocks and bonds showed no important changes. The miscellaneous list also reflected a limited demand. Independent Brewery 6s were active at $60 between sessions. Other bonds were steady.

St. Louis Money Market.

Outside demand for loans has increased perceptibly in the last few days and this is responsible for the hardening tendency in St. Louis interest rates at the present time. One large national bank reported inquiries for over $250,000 in loans in a single day from their interior banks. Of course, if this continued, rates will naturally work to a somewhat more profitable level. Local bankers ascribe the demand to a more satisfactory feeling in the country, coupled with belief in some sections that interior institutions may not be able later on to handle their local demand, rates are now 4½ per cent bid in some quarters for time funds, although there is some demand money available at that price. Small loans have been marked up to 4¾ per cent.

Sheep	9,000	5,000	5,500
Horses and mules	300	350	600

NATIVE CATTLE—Army worm and drouth forced in an abnormally large supply of native cattle, receipts being estimated at around 7500 head. Few good steers were offered, most of the run being common, half fat stuff. Best cattle were weak, and medium grades were around 15@25c lower. Early top was $8.50.

The life to the mule trade depended entirely on the Eastern traders, and no Southern buyers were seen on the market.

Mule buyers laid down on the job today and there was little trading staged. Big mules and miners only sellers.

MILLING NEWS

Milling and Grain News says: "The winter wheat crop has been carried rapidly towards maturity by hot forcing weather, and remains in a highly favorable position, with the exception of Missouri, where Hessian fly damage was unusually severe and moisture is badly needed, and in Southern Illinois, where drouth has reduced the prospect materially. Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Iowa have had seasonable moisture and the high promise recently noted in these states has been maintained. Weather conditions have been perfect for spring wheat and the early crop promise is unusually high. Corn is starting the season in good condition, with the exception of Missouri, where the crop is retarded somewhat by lack of moisture and high temperature. Oats reflect improved weather conditions, except in Missouri, Southern Illinois and the Southeastern states.

A break of about 1c a bushel in wheat futures Tuesday was the response to the Government report indicating a total wheat crop of 900,000,000 bu, or 137,000,000 bu more than the previous high-record crop. Oats were about steady, despite the crop estimate of 1,216,000,000 bu, against 1,121,000,000 bu last year. Corn was firm and higher, on light supplies in primary markets and continued dry weather in sections of the corn belt.

The American Government report was considered bearish in Liverpool but largely discounted, and this in connection with the easier American cables Monday were offset by the scarcity of spot and firmness of Manitobas offers and at the opening of the market prices were unchanged to ⅛d lower, with July freely supported. Following the opening the market was dull, but steadily held, and trading was restricted awaiting the American disposition.

Liverpool corn opened ⅛d lower and following the opening there was a further decline of ⅛d to ¼d, with the undertone easy. The firmness in America Monday and strength in Buenos Ayres were offset by free Danubian offers to Liverpool and private reports received this morning of better weather in Argentine.

The European visible this week amounts to 73,704,000 bu, against 70,680,000 last week, showing an increase for the week of 3,024,000 bu. Last week there was a decrease of 6,144,000 bu. The total last year amounted to 89,600,000 bu.

Minneapolis wheat receipts were 115 cars, against 118 last week and 152 last year. Duluth 74, against 73 and 125. Winnipeg 337, against 435 and 239. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 425,000 bu for 3 days.

Liverpool wheat closed ⅛d lower; corn, ⅛d lower. Berlin wheat, ⅜c lower; Budapest, 1⅝c up.

B. W. Snow wired: "While this dry, hot weather in Southern Indiana, Illinois, Central Missouri and Eastern Kansas is threatening damage to corn and perhaps has actually already caused some positive injury, it has permanently damaged the oats crop and cut down the hay crop beyond recovery. Oats prospect all through this territory has declined very heavily since the Government report was gathered. I have reports from some counties in Illinois and Missouri that are sensational and the area suffering appears to be growing wider."

Chicago wired: "The weather is scorching hot today through the drouth-stricken sections of Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, with temperatures the highest that have yet been experienced. At 12 o'clock today it is 90 in St. Louis, 93 in Peoria, 90 in Springfield, 94 in Bloomington and 98 in Terre Haute. These temperatures, coming as they do, on cornfields, that have had a continuing rain deficiency for five weeks, will certainly begin to permanently damage corn."

Crop records covering many years show that there is almost never a big corn and a big wheat yield the same year. The reason is that weather conditions favorable for one crop are not the ideal conditions for the other. A cool, wet, early season and a hot dry period for ripening and harvest make a wheat crop, but the same condition give corn a poor start. The dry period, which is favorable for wheat maturity and harvest, is now on and is already damaging corn in Southern Indiana, Illinois, Central Missouri and Eastern Kansas. If it continues so as to furnish good harvest weather, corn will be hurt.

Broomhall's Foreign Crop Summary said:

"United Kingdom—The weather is very cool. Wheat is heading and the outlook is favorable.

"France—The crop promise is rather below medium and offers are light. The indications point to a fair yield of oats.

"Russia—The crop outlook is generally favorable, but scattered complaints continue to come to hand.

"Rumania and Bulgaria—The crop outlook shows some improvement, but the yield will show a bare average.

"Hungary—Many complaints received regarding serious crop damage from dryness and rust and it is estimated that the yield will be fully 22,000,000 bu below normal.

"Germany—The outlook for spring crops is satisfactory.

"India—Offers are firm and arrivals for shipments lighter.

"Argentine—The wet weather has caused a delay in seeding of wheat, but there is ample time yet for this to be done. The acreage is expected to be under that of last year. Rain occurred in the center, but the forecast is for fine.

"India—Our agent cables that the monsoon has at last burst. This will of course greatly relieve the suffering and benefit corn."

NEW GRAIN RULE

Members of the Merchants' Exchange will vote Wednesday to amend the trading rules so as to place hard or soft winter wheat on an equal basis, on contracts for future delivery. Hard wheat at present is deliverable only on payment of a 3c per bushel premium.

In advocating the change the petition signed by a majority of Merchants' Exchange commission and grain firms gives the following reasons for adopting the new rule:

Because both hard and soft wheat being deliverable on contract on an equal basis, will tend to prevent manipulation; St. Louis is the only primary market that penalizes the delivery of hard wheat on contract; the volume of hard wheat that is raised in territory tributary to this market far exceeds that of soft wheat; it will make the St. Louis market popular in the great hard wheat producing sections; it will largely increase the business between St. Louis and the principal hard wheat producing states, namely, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Iowa; the representative mills of St. Louis grind over 60 per cent of hard wheat; it will mean increased milling capacity in the St. Louis market; if St. Louis is to maintain its relative position as a primary market, increased elevator and storage facilities are absolutely necessary; positive assurances have been made by responsible members that a modern million-bushel concrete elevator will be built conditional upon this amendment becoming effective; it means a material increase in business for banking, insurance, transportation and manufacturing interests; a majority of the members of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange have always been in favor of the proposed amendment.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. McCARDELL.

Mr. Jarr Finds a Stern Chase a Long One.

MR. JARR hastened home as fast as he could go. He was surprised to note by a clock in a brewery tower that he had been at the flat of Fritz, the shipping clerk, less than an hour.

To Mr. Jarr it seemed as though ages had passed since he had left his happy home on the other side of town. He stopped to gaze in the mirror of a chewing gum slot machine and was almost surprised to note he had not grown gray. He had been through so much, if not time, at least adventure, that he was rather inclined to believe it had all been a horrid dream and that he was even now walking in his sleep.

"It can't be true!" he murmured to himself. "It's the memory of a moving picture fantasy, or else I've had a nightmare! There can't be such things in real life as fat ladies in hysterics pinning brothers, boarders and policemen under folding beds, behind closed doors with folding beds and against the wall with folding beds."

Mr. Jarr had thought until now that the deadly folding bed had been long extinct. But evidently such was not the case.

He arrived at his apartment, bursting to tell such portions of his adventure that his wife might credit and to bitterly reproach her for the dangers he had passed, dangers which her ill-advised sympathies had placed him in when his own intuition had told him he was rushing in where even a theatrical angel would have feared to tread!

But it was Gertrude, the light-running domestic, who met him at the door and told him that Mrs. Jarr had gone over to Mrs. Stryver's to tango with some friends who had called for her. Mr. Jarr was to follow, was Gertrude's message.

Passing Gus' popular cafe on the corner, Mr. Rangle hailed him at the door and would have hailed him in the door but Mr. Jarr tore himself away and virtuously reproached Rangle with a brusque "Nothing doing!"

At Mrs. Stryver's a condescending English butler, who evidently despised Mr. Jarr almost as much as he did the people who paid his wages, gave the grudging information that, after a hurried maxixe, Mrs. Stryver, Mrs. Jarr and others of the dancing party had departed for Mrs. Vansour's.

Mr. Jarr and his wife and her dancing friends were evidently doomed to miss connections, for at the Vansours' Mr. Jarr was informed by a haughty black boy from Barbadoes that the individuals with Mrs. Vansour and her husband had but just recently departed.

He did not desire to state for a verity, as overeducated black boy from Barbadoes said—for running a lift is quite elevating—but he was cognisant of having overheard a chance remark that indicated that the individuals comprising the party in question were going to Mrs. Clara Mudridge-Smith's apartments at the Highcosta Arms.

Mr. Jarr gave the black boy from Barbadoes a searching glance, feeling that it might be Mr. Michael Angelo Dinkston in disguise, and hurried on after the movable tango party.

At the Highcosta Arms Mr. Jarr was requested to come up when he had given warning of his approach by the aid of the telephone operator in the hall. At Mrs. Mudridge-Smith's apartment he found the place hushed in gloom, the phonograph silent, the lights all fled, the garlands dead and the dancing hall deserted, so to speak.

"Yes, Mrs. Jarr is here!" cried Mrs. Mudridge-Smith. "The rest have gone, but she—an angel of sympathy—has stayed with us! Oh, Mr. Jarr, a dreadful thing has happened—and we were having such a lovely time, too!"

Mr. Jarr said he hoped no one was injured—but Clara Mudridge-Smith was almost as hysterical as the Obeee Odalisque in the folding bed had been Mr. Jarr was prepared for the worst.

"We were having such a grand time! It was such a grand idea! We tangoed at your house, then we all rushed to Mrs. Stryver's and maxixed in her parlors, then we took taxicabs and our private cars to Mrs. Vansour's and danced the hesitation and the horse trot and then we came to my house and just as we were having the loveliest time, my husband slipped and fell and broke"—

"His legs, his arms?" interrupted Mr. Jarr excitedly.

"No, his dancing crutches!" wailed Clara Mudridge-Smith. "The dear old man won't be able to dance another step until he gets a new pair made for him! And Mrs. Jarr is trying to comfort him by telling him it may be all for the best. But I can't see how!"

Brains rarely ever cause a swelled head.—Macon Telegraph.

"A porous plaster."

Saved.

THE chief Powhatan was about to pulverize Mr. John Smith when a shriek rent the air and Pocahontas stood beside them.

"Stay!" she commanded.

"Ah!" exclaimed Smith, who was noted for his fertility in resource, "you are the first girl I ever loved."

Pocahontas was just graduated and believed everything she heard, and so they were married.

The Mystery Explained

HE came timidly into the editor's office, and, sitting down, addressed that individual.

"Pardon me, sir, but would you like an authoritative article on the immigration question, written in that spirit of fairness and philosophical insight that is bound to appeal to the great public?"

"No, thank you. That isn't quite in our line."

"How about feminism? Can give you a perfectly delightful piece on that subject far in advance of the age."

"Afraid we cannot use it."

"Perhaps you would like to have Wall street shown up in an inimitably witty and yet dignified and searching manner?"

"Sorry, but it does not interest us."

"Well, say a stirring article on Mexico, giving the inside facts."

"Nothing on Mexico today."

"Perhaps you would like a bunch of wonderful short stories, the kind that grip hard and make it apparent that the author is a new genius just coming into blossom?"

"We are rather long on short stories."

"Well, how about some poetical masterpieces? Anything from four cantos up. You know, they are quite fashionable now. Can let you have a metrical best seller in a couple of weeks."

"I am afraid not. Is there anything you cannot furnish?"

"Nothing, sir. Philosophy, history, poetry, humor—how about a series of snappy articles on health? Perhaps you would like to have your readers diet by a new system just invented. It makes no differences, there is nothing in the whole range of literature that I cannot supply you with. Here's my card; in case you want anything let me know."

He got up to go. The editor smiled.

"Very well, sir; but may I ask whether you run an agency or a syndicate?"

"Neither, sir. I am only the proud father of a 19-year-old girl who has a talent for literature and has just been graduated from an American college."—Life.

Car Fare.

CAR fare is something you hand directly to a group of gentlemen to manipulate the stock of a company that is paying on the installment plan for the car which you buy the privilege of entering.

The process is simple. First, as a citizen, you vote to elect to office a man who votes to sell the car fare privilege to others, who, in turn, vote to water the stock for the benefit of certain insiders. Second, as a passenger, you pay twice as much as the service is worth, to provide enough money to pay interest on the stocks and bonds watered beyond the labor spent on the road. Third, you stand up while doing it.

It's a game of uplift: A put-up, a stand-up, and a hold-up.—Life.

After the average runaway couple have succeeded in gaining the forgiveness of their parents, they spend the balance of their lives in trying to forgive themselves.
